Cards host to Warren Friday

Friday night Arlington is host to Warren on the Cardinal court. Arlington is expected to win without too much trouble. The Cards will be playing with their eyes on the Crystal Lake game at Niles. They're hoping the Trojans will take the measure of the Lakers, enabling the local five to move into a tie for first place.

Both Warren squads are in the cellar of the league, but may spring a surprise. The Tornadoes should continue their winning ways. They're leading the junior-varsity division with an 8 and 1 record.

Pirates seek revenge for earlier defeat

It's Palatine against Arlington again Saturday night when the local fives meet on the Heights court. A capacity crowd is expected that night, a turnout expected to surpass the record group that viewed the Crystal Lake-Arlington tilt of two weeks ago.

Palatine was sailing along with a run of ten straight over the Cards, and 14 of the last 15, when the two teams met earlier this year on the Palatine court. In addition the sleighbells trophy was at stake for the winner.

The favored Arlington five whipped Palatine in an overtime tilt, 37-31. The Cards had forged ahead the first half, were passed by the Pirates in the third quarter, but tied the game at 31-all in regulation time.

In the overtime play the first two minutes were scoreless. Then Arlington, paced by big Gene Stroker, notched three quick baskets to win, 37-31.

Pirates will be out for revenge this Saturday, hoping to win back the sleighbells. Roger Smith, Palatine spark plug, was out of the previous game, but expects to see service this week. Arlington went into a slump immediately following the Palatine game, but has recovered, winning three in a row.

In the previous lightweight tilt Palatine held almost even with the Tonadoes through all but the last five minutes. It was then that Arlington put on a scoring spree to severely trounce the junior Pirates.

Board members told foreclosure is not easy

Municipalities are usually 'Santa Claus'

Members of four Arlington Heights taxing bodies were told Tuesday evening that the way of tax foreclosure is not easy. They also learned that the village government is often the Santa Claus that does the work and assumes the responsibility while the other taxing bodies within the municipality reap the benefit.

Amos Watts, a member of the firm of Chapman & Cutler, was the speaker, who, making no recommendations, told the necessary method that must be followed if a concerted effort is to be made to remove delinquent taxes, both general and special, and get properties on a current tax basis. Following his talk there was a free discussion of the merits of several plans that could be followed.

The general speaker assured his hearers that in his opinion the first step must be the collection of the evidence, which, in effect, is a tax search on all parcels that appear delinquent on today's tax books. "Not an easy task", said Mr. Watts, "but necessary before the legal machinery can be set in motion."

The cost of the tax search method which must be followed, unless no taxes have been paid for ten or more years, is estimated at about $1.40 a parcel which has unpaid general and special assessments against it. The supreme court recently upheld the scavenger act which provides a short method of tax foreclosure for taxes over ten years in default.

It was admitted that the tax search method on 2,000 parcels would require a fund of $2,500 to $3,000 for expenses aside from attorney fees. None of the boards present signified their willingness to contribute to such a fund although the speaker assured them that the returns from the foreclosures would more than pay the costs.

Little was said about the requirement of guarantee bids before tax sales will be permitted in Cook county. Mr. Watts stated that the law does not require any guarantee bid, but that the county board had arbitrarily fixed minimums that would be permitted. The county board must O. K. tax foreclosures and while they are conducted in the name of the state's attorney, the local taxing body asking fo the foreclosure must retain counsel for the work.

Mayor Goedke, Arlington, stated that at present foreclosures are in process, in each case, the interested realtors or large holder of bonds are paying all the costs without expense to the village.

Mayor Wm. DePue of Palatine, when called upon to tell what Palatine is doing, stated that tax foreclosures are in progress against three tracts at the expense of the interested realtor and that individual property owners are enabled to redeem their property at practically the price paid by the real estate firm.

Mayor Goedke admitted that a general foreclosure on bonds held in small lots by local individuals might work a hardship on people with small means who, on the advice of former officials, invested their life's savings in the bonds. Replying, a speaker stated that in reality when the property owners stopped paying their specials in 1932 and 1933 was when these people lost their bonds and any money they receive today on the bonds can be considered a godsend. Otherwise the bonds will remain worthless.

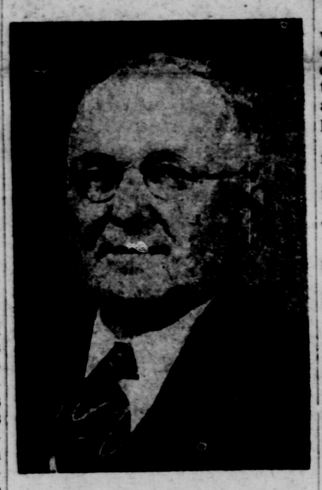

Unless vacant properties are again placed on the tax books they will become blighted districts and be a detriment to the community was pointed out by several speakers.

No concrete plan was suggested or action taken that evening to meet the situation but the thorough discussion enlightened all members.

At the close of the discussion the elementary school board, as hosts, served light refreshments.

Wheeling assessor retires after 12 years service

J. Fred Meyer, who has been assessor of Wheeling township for twelve years will not seek re-election this spring. He made the announcement last week at a meeting of township officials called to discuss the forthcomig township election. "I believe that a public official should retire when, because of personal matters, he is not in a position to give his office the full time and attention that it deserves," stated Mr. Meyer.

"During the twelve years that I have been assessor I feel that I have kept the promises made at election time, and will go out of office with a realization that I have done the best possible for the taxpayers."

Other township officials were reluctant to accept Mr. Meyer's withdrawal, but on his insistence his name will not appear on the petitions that will soon be in circulation.

Mr. Meyer's term of office does not really expire until after he has completed the assessing work of this spring, which will be the 13th time that he has done the work.

He was first elected in 1933. During his term of office radical changes have been made in the assessment rules, the greatest of which was last year when the 100 percent valuation became effective. It has not been an easy job for Mr. Meyer to follow orders from the county assessors office and at the same time protect the interests of the tax payers. In the opinion of the town board Mr. Meyer has done a good job and held the confidence of the tax payers regardless of the size of their tax bills.

Seek opinions on federal aid bill

Federal Aid to Education is a subject now being nationally discussed. What are your views on it? What do you think about Federal Aid Bill (Senate 181 and H. R. 1296)? What do you need to know about it? Mary and Elly, corresponding editors of "Just Around the Corner" want your letters for their column. Send them to Mary or Elly, c-o this paper.

To file complete Wheeling Twp. regular ticket

Present officers except two are candidates

Nomination petitions are being circulated in Wheeling township for the coming election on April 3. J. Fred Meyer, assessor, is retiring and Eugene Stroker, constable, is also not a candidate for re-election. Theodore Studtman is candidate for the assessorship, while Jack Clark is taking the place of Constable Stroker. The petitions to be filed will place in nomination the following:

Supervisor, Gilbert Klehm.
Town Clerk, Howard Helm.
Assessor, Theodore Studtman.
Collector, William Annen.
Highway Commissioner, Floyd Dobbins.

Justices of the Peace, C. M. Behrens, William Weber, Harvey Adams, Edward Fritz, William Lawrence.

Constables, C. H. Skogg, Fred Hinz, Harold Lamb, Jack Clerk, Ray Lesch.

All except four of the candidates are residents of Arlington Heights.

Supervisor Klehm represents the rural district, Harold Lamb, Prospect Heights, William Lawrence and Ray Lesch, the village of Wheeling.

VILLAGE ELECTION

Elections will be held in all municipalities this spring for the major offices. In Arlington Heights the offices of mayor, village clerk and three trustees expire. Present incumbants whose terms expire are Mayor Goedke, Clerk Forrest Davis, and trustees, Fred H. Kehe, William Franke and Rudolph Rizzi.

The first day for filing village tickets is Feb. 16; the last day March 13.

Draftees report for duty next week

Arlington Heights selective service board 1 has released a list of new inductees that report for induction next week. Ten of the twelve are local men. All have already passed their pre-induction physicals.

Marvin Edward Pingel, Mansfield, Ohio.
Martin Glenn Schmidt, Wheeling.
Rogalio Cantu, Corpus Christi, Texas.
Robert Ralph Hammond, Barrington.
Howard Albert Oehlerking, Mt. Prospect.
Ralph Gaulke, Barrington.
Rollin Gaulke, Barrington.
John Lester Johnson, Palatine.
Charles Joseph O'Leary, Des Plaines.
Robert James Cheney, Des Plaines.
R'Dell Adolph Wille, Mt. Prospect.
Harold Walter Kufahl, Arlington Heights.

1945 Red Cross war fund drive to open March 1

Preparations for the opening of the 1945 Red Cross War Fund campaign are being speeded up throughout the Chicago Chapter area for the opening date of general solicitation on March 1. Each of the 174 separate communities of the County Communities Division of the Chicago Chapter already has been organized to speed up the work of raising the area's total quota of $11,300,000.

In order to make sure that each resident of this vast area of the County Communities Division, with an approximate population of 900,000, will have an opportunity to contribute to the Red Cross War Fund through the division and be counted in on helping to meet the division's quota of $1,100,000, the area has been divided into seven districts, each with a district chairman and coordinator.

Heading the Arlington Heights campaign are chairman, Mrs. H. D. Taylor, 903 E. Euclid ave., and co-chairman, Mrs. Geo. Hieber, 203 N. Belmont st. The Arlington Heights quota of $7,200 is $1,200 more than last year. A house-to-house campaign will be made during the first two weeks in March.

$25 reward

For information leading to arrest and conviction of person or persons guilty of brutally beating brown and black Chow dog last Saturday, February 3, some time between 8:30 and 11:00 a. m. Won't you help to stop this brutality, it might be your pet next.

Seabee seeking re-election as Arlington clerk

Forrest Davis, who is serving Uncle Sam in the Pacific is a candidate for re-election as village clerk of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Davis appeared before the village board Monday evening and asked for nomination petitions, which she stated she intended to circulate for her husband's candidacy.

Mr. Davis was elected to office four years ago. Upon his induction into the Seabees he asked and secured a leave of absence from the village board. Mrs. Helene Busse has been acting clerk during the interim. In seeking re-election Mr. Davis is following the action of Edward J. Barrett, secretary of State, who was a member of the armed forces at the time of his election last November.

Lt. Art North killed Xmas day

Lt. Arthur North of Palatine was killed in action it was learned this week. He was killed Christmas day in Belgium. Lt. North had been reported missing last week.

Art lived in Palatine and attended Palatine schools. He was executive officer of the 75th infantry, going overseas in October. His unit was a member of the First army. His wife, the former Dorothy Stemmerman, lives with her parents at Des Plaines.

Commend boy scouts on anniversary week

Local scouts set enviable record

With "Scouts of the World—Brothers Together" as their theme Boy Scouts, Cubs, Senior Scouts and their adult leaders throughout the United States will commemorate Boy Scout Week which begins Thursday (Feb. 8) and continues through Wednesday, Feb. 14.

The theme was selected for this Boy Scout Week celebration as well as the rest of the year, because there are unmistakable evidences that in this year Scouting will find its rebirth in nation after nation, as fast as the forces of freedom liberate them.

Membership in the 48 Boy Scout Associations in 70 different lands around the world at the outbreak of World War II in 1939 was over the three million mark. Mussolini abolished the Boy Scout Movement in Italy. There never has been Boy Scouting in Germany. Hitler abolished Scouting in each country invaded but there is ample evidence that in many war-torn countries Scouting went underground and managed to keep the spirit of Scouting alive. In Japan the Movement was militarized.

The National Council of the Boy Scouts of America has just established a "World Friendship Fund" which gives all members of the Movement in the United States an opportunity to help in the re-establishment of Scouting in countries being liberated by the fighting forces of the United Nations.

Boy Scouts throughout the world are planning to resume their world-wide friendships, through correspondence, exchange of equipment and by meeting in person at the great World Scout Jamborees after the war ends.

At the Fifth World Scout Jamboree when 26,000 Scouts camped together at Vogelzang in The Netherlands in the summer of 1937, the late Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout of the World, appraised World Scout gatherings by saying:

"By cultivating these friendships such as have been cemented at this great Jamboree, you are preparing the way for solutions of international problems. This will have a vital and very far-reaching effect throughout the world in the cause of peace, and so I pledge all of you here in this great assembly of youth, to do your absolute utmost to establish friendship among Scouts of all nations."

Boy Scout Week marks the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Movement in America. Since Feb. 8, 1910, more than 12,000,000 men and boys have been in Scouting. The present-day active enrollment is more than 1,800,000 Cubs, Scouts, Senior Scouts and adult volunteer leaders.

The birthday will be observed in every city and town in the nation and in hundreds of villages and hamlets as well.

Boy Scouts, Cubs and Senior Scouts have performed many services vital to the war effort in recent months. In a recent two months drive for sorely needed waste paper the Boy Scouts salvaged 120,000 tons. Incomplete reports show that 85,968 Scouts and Cubs collected over a half ton each while more than 400,000 boys brought in more than 500 pounds each.

Late in September and in early October Scouts and Cubs collected enough milkweed floss to make one million life jackets for the armed forces for use while afloat.

Last year the Boy Scouts of America distributed more than 20,000,000 posters for the Office of War Information. In addition members aided rationing boards, Selective Service Boards, Community Chests, War Chests and Foreign Relief. They took an active part in the War Loan campaigns, not only in distributing literature and helping at the War Loan headquarters, but also taking orders for Bonds and Stamps. Special Scouts-at-War Minute Man Flags are being proudly displayed by Troops, Cub Packs and Senior Scout groups which have 90 per cent of their members buying War Bonds or Stamps regularly in addition to each member having someone else of his household making regular purchases.

In Arlington

During 1944 Arlington Heights Boy Scouts contributed 172,370 pounds of waste paper to the national drive. Collections were made from time to time, netting a handsome profit. Proceeds were shared by the scouts and OCD. Another pick-up will be made in April. Frank Havranek of the Scouts and Kenneth Gregory of the OCD serve as co-chairmen of local waste paper drives.

During Boy Scout Week Scouts will take over many store windows to display some of their handicraft and to demonstrate some of the skills they acquire through the program. Investiture ceremonies during the week will bring hundreds of new boys into the ranks of Scouting. Scouts will rededicate themselves to the Scout Oath and Law on Thursday (Feb. 8) which is the actual anniversary day of the original incorporation of the Movement at Washingto, D. C.

At Parents' Night meeting, boys will be hosts to their fathers, mothers and other adult relatives and friends, demonstrating to them that Scouting is in reality "democracy at work." Parents and boys alike will have an evening of entertainment through Scout games, stunts, campfire songs and skits.

In line with theme of the celebration this year, many Troops and Cub Packs are working toward adopting some group of brother Scouts or Cubs in war-torn lands and helping them rebuild their group.

Sunday, Feb. 11 is Boy Scout Sunday and Cubs, Boy Scouts, Senior Scouts and their Leaders will attend church services in uniform.

Firemen beat Soft Water keglers

The attempt Sunday to put down the Arlington Firemen by the Soft Water bowling team was unsuccessful, the firemen winning by 96 pins. The match was rolled on the Arlington alleys.

This Sunday the Soft Water boys are taking on the Benjamin Electric keglers at Des Plaines. Interest has waxed high at Benjamin, with Joe Brodnan of Arlington on the team. The Soft Water squad feel they can come through, however, and are all set for Sunday at 2 at the Des Plaines alleys.

Missing nephew wounded in Belgium

Staff Sergeant Walter Gaede, nephew of Mrs. Henry Wessel of Palatine has been found, it was learned this week. He had been wounded in Belgium, and is recuperating in Holland. This was the second time he was wounded in Belgium. S-Sgt. Gaede hails from South Dakota.

Parents find son reported missing returned to duty

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Moehling, Arlington Heights, received word Wednesday morning from the war department that their son, Pfc. Harold Moehling, returned to duty. Jan. 19. His parents had been informed early in January that he was missing since Dec. 20th. They had previously received letters from him dated Dec. 26 and January 1.

Pfc. Ray Engelking of Palatine, also reported missing Dec. 20, was back on duty with his company Jan. 19 according to word received Wednesday by his wife who lives in Barrington. She had received several letters written in January, the last of which is especially interesting as he had just learned that he had been reported missing.

Ray wrote that he had received a pay check on which was written "missing in action," which was not true. Thinking that the "missing" covered part of January, he said that while driving a truck through the country, the truck broke down, and he remained a week with an elderly French woman with whom he shared a box of Fannie Mays, the first candy she had tasted in over four years.

Arlington nurse rescued from Philippine prison camp

Await word of Roselle missionary

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Carlson, of Roselle, are anxiously awaiting word from their daughter, Doris, who when last heard from was a prisoner at the Baguio prison camp, 150 miles north of Manila, which has not yet been reached by the Americans.

Miss Carlson, 35, a missionary was sent to Pekin, China, in 1940. Because of the war there she was transferred to Camp Holmes, Philippines, where with 500 others she was interned by the Japs.

Prisoner in Jap homeland

Ray Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peters, 1330 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, who was formerly a prisoner in the Philippines, is now held in Japan, according to the latest word received by his parents. Ray has been in the navy 20 years.

Sleighbells ring in Roselle

Roselle extends a hearty invitation to Paddock Publications, Doctor Best, John Firnbach, and any other 'Heights' people, who have a nostalgic longing to hear sleigh bells, to come out our way any afternoon or moonlight night.

Ever since the first heavy snowfall in December, the children (and grown-ups, too) have made sleighing their first choice as a means for amusement and relaxation. We have seen all manner of one and two horse sleighs; and even a small homemade sled just big enough for a pony to pull.

We have seen this little pony pulling his load of rosy-cheeked children, the groceries, and a supply of kerosene "to heat the chicken coop", we were told. And as the precious cargo slipped over the snow, the bells jingled gaily—a sight and sound to cheer the heart.

One enthusiastic family solved the seating capacity problem by tying a toboggan to their horse's harness, and away they all go, whether the temperature's above or below zero.

Yes, siree, Roselle has sleighs and sleighbells!

Mrs. S. R. Paddock, Jr. dies in hospital; husband overseas

The cablegram forwarded to Captain Stuart R. Paddock, Jr., Monday, in addition to carrying the announcement of the birth of a daughter, informed him that his wife had died in a hospital at Paducah, Kentucky. Capt. Paddock is with General Patton's 3rd army.

Capt. and Mrs. Paddock were married October 3, 1943. Mrs. Paddock had spent the last few months before her husband's departure for overseas duty with him at Camp McCoy. She was making her home with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Burroughs at Bardwell, Kentucky, since he left.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Paddock, Sr., are attending the funeral at Bardwell Thursday.

High school loses Miss Kral to Mo. college

Miss Virginia Kral, teacher of public speaking and dramatics coach in the Arlington Heights high school, has resigned from her position in the school to take a position in Webster College, Webster Groves, Mo.

Miss Kral's leaving will be felt keenly by both students and faculty. She has shown marked ability in the teaching of her subjects, and the many plays and programs that she has prepared have been thoroughly enjoyed not only by those who participated in them but also by those who witnessed them.

Her cooperative and helpful attitude toward faculty problems has made her a valuable addition to the teaching staff. She leaves a place in the minds and hearts of Arlington students and faculty members that cannot easily be refilled.

The community has also profited by Miss Kral's talent. Many organizations have benefited from her cheerful and ready response to requests for help in presenting programs. Her clever readings have been a favorite spot on many programs during her three and one half years in Arlington Heights.

Miss Kral is to be congratulated on her new position which will undoubtedly provide an opportunity for further advancement in her chosen profession.

The women members of the faculty participated in a farewell party for Miss Kral Tuesday evening, January 30.

During the last two summers Miss Kral has assisted in the speech department at Northwestern University and has taken graduate work there.

G. I. Bill of Rights expert at Arlington

Frederick B. Bourland, special representative of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration, Washington, D. C., will speak at the Arlington Heights Legion Home Tuesday evening, February 13, at 8:00 o'clock, on the government guaranty of loans to all eligible demobilized servicemen and women.

Mr. Bourland has for many years been in public relations work in all of the twelve Bank Districts of the Federal Bank system. His work has principally to do with the problems the war has brought about as housing priorities, war housing, financing of war housing by private industry, post war planning and finally a complete study of the G. I. Bill of Rights and its application to the private mortgage industry.

Since this act was passed in June of last year he has been in close touch with the proposed legislation and the committees which were charged with the regulations. Mr. Bourland has made a great number of addresses before large groups throughout the country and has discussed the bill with almost all types of lenders and government agencies. His background also includes 20 years in the mortgage and real estate business in Peoria and several years as Illinois State Manager of the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

As this servicemen's readjustment act of 1944 gives the G. I. Joe of this war a chance to re-establish themselves through guaranty of loans, it will indirectly affect and aid millions of citizens on the home front.

The Arlington Heights Legion Post is fortunate in securing such a qualified speaker on this all important subject for their next regular meeting.

An invitation is extended members and others in the community who are interested in learning more about the G. I. loans to attend Tuesday night.

Lt. Minnie Breese cares for wounded

Lt. Minnie L. Breese, army nurse, formerly of Arlington Heights, was rescued by Gen. MacArthur's forces Sunday at Santo Tomas prison camp in Manila. She was one of 69 hospital nurses and technicians rescued whose names were released by the army Monday. There were 1,350 prisoners freed when a small contingent of American soldiers rushed to the former college grounds, surprising the Japs.

A truce was arranged with sixty-nine Jap officers and men, who had taken with them 270 allied prisoners as hostages and barricaded themselves in the education building of the university. The Nips demanded the honor of going out to rejoin their forces bearing their own arms. The alternative was a battle in which many civilians might have been killed.

Their request was granted after their packs had been searched. They marched through the captured part of the city between two files of American soldiers.

Number of prisoners rise

When the entire city was occupied later in the day the number of prisoners and internees rescued rose to over 3,700. By Tuesday the list had passed 5,400.

The last word heard from Lt. Breese was before Christmas when her mother received a card stating that she was well.

In a previous letter written August 12, 1943, and received by her brother, Willis Breese of Arlington Heights, in December of that year, Lt. Breese wrote:

"I have been very well. Am nursing at present in a hospital for old men. Not hard work. Have plenty of time to read, knit, etc. Time flies fast. Food is good, under present conditions.

"There are many camp activities . . . Living conditions are rather crowded but clean. I am fortunate in that I have all of my clothes. So many people have lost all of their belongings. Money is scarce but I get along without it."

Conditions evidently changed since the summer of 1943. Interviews with rescued persons tell stories of brutal treatment and calculated malnutrition. Up to last August men lost an average of 27 pounds and women 16 pounds. Since August the men have lost an additional 24 pounds and women an additional 16 pounds.

Get Carabao bones

On Thanksgiving and Christmas days Filipinos and Leutrals, who brought food to the camp, were turned away. Children foraged in garbage pails of their Japanese guards for bits of food.

The camp had its first taste of meat in months when the Japs slaughtered two carabao and distributed 120 pounds of bones.

American troopers emptied their packs for half starved men, women and children released from Japanese captivity.

The cavalry men were shocked at the emaciated condition of some of the prisoners. All were thin and weak from malnutrition.

Death rate increases

Physicians among the prisoners said their food allowances dwindled as the war turned against the Japanese. The death rate rose sharply, the major cause being starvation. There was a somber note to the story, a forewarning to relatives of those who failed to survive.

The prisoners said they had lived almost entirely on rice, camotes (resembling sweet potato roots) and garbage can salvage.

The Japanese told prisoners "Unless we give you more food you'll starve, and we don't care if you do."

Keep active

During their captivity the internees worked hard to keep their minds occupied. Children attended classes regularly and kept up with similar age groups in school. The clay soil available for gardening was too poor to raise much but greens, yet it was tilled industriously.

Army nurses labored to maintain the health of the group. Among them were Lt. Minnie Breese. News reports are that she is today helping to care for the wounded in Manila.

Minnie Breese resided in Arlington Heights twenty years. She is a graduate of Arlington Heights high school and St. Francis hospital school of nursing. She has been in the army nurse corps for about eight years. Lt. Breese was sent to the Philippines in 1940, and accompanied the army to Corregidor, where she was captured with the fall of that stronghold. Her mother and a brother now reside in St. Louis.

Cards host to Warren Friday

Friday night Arlington is host to Warren on the Cardinal court. Arlington is expected to win without too much trouble. The Cards will be playing with their eyes on the Crystal Lake game at Niles. They're hoping the Trojans will take the measure of the Lakers, enabling the local five to move into a tie for first place.

Both Warren squads are in the cellar of the league, but may spring a surprise. The Tornadoes should continue their winning ways. They're leading the junior-varsity division with an 8 and 1 record.

Pirates seek revenge for earlier defeat

It's Palatine against Arlington again Saturday night when the local fives meet on the Heights court. A capacity crowd is expected that night, a turnout expected to surpass the record group that viewed the Crystal Lake-Arlington tilt of two weeks ago.

Palatine was sailing along with a run of ten straight over the Cards, and 14 of the last 15, when the two teams met earlier this year on the Palatine court. In addition the sleighbells trophy was at stake for the winner.

The favored Arlington five whipped Palatine in an overtime tilt, 37-31. The Cards had forged ahead the first half, were passed by the Pirates in the third quarter, but tied the game at 31-all in regulation time.

In the overtime play the first two minutes were scoreless. Then Arlington, paced by big Gene Stroker, notched three quick baskets to win, 37-31.

Pirates will be out for revenge this Saturday, hoping to win back the sleighbells. Roger Smith, Palatine spark plug, was out of the previous game, but expects to see service this week. Arlington went into a slump immediately following the Palatine game, but has recovered, winning three in a row.

In the previous lightweight tilt Palatine held almost even with the Tonadoes through all but the last five minutes. It was then that Arlington put on a scoring spree to severely trounce the junior Pirates.

Board members told foreclosure is not easy

Municipalities are usually 'Santa Claus'

Members of four Arlington Heights taxing bodies were told Tuesday evening that the way of tax foreclosure is not easy. They also learned that the village government is often the Santa Claus that does the work and assumes the responsibility while the other taxing bodies within the municipality reap the benefit.

Amos Watts, a member of the firm of Chapman & Cutler, was the speaker, who, making no recommendations, told the necessary method that must be followed if a concerted effort is to be made to remove delinquent taxes, both general and special, and get properties on a current tax basis. Following his talk there was a free discussion of the merits of several plans that could be followed.

The general speaker assured his hearers that in his opinion the first step must be the collection of the evidence, which, in effect, is a tax search on all parcels that appear delinquent on today's tax books. "Not an easy task", said Mr. Watts, "but necessary before the legal machinery can be set in motion."

The cost of the tax search method which must be followed, unless no taxes have been paid for ten or more years, is estimated at about $1.40 a parcel which has unpaid general and special assessments against it. The supreme court recently upheld the scavenger act which provides a short method of tax foreclosure for taxes over ten years in default.

It was admitted that the tax search method on 2,000 parcels would require a fund of $2,500 to $3,000 for expenses aside from attorney fees. None of the boards present signified their willingness to contribute to such a fund although the speaker assured them that the returns from the foreclosures would more than pay the costs.

Little was said about the requirement of guarantee bids before tax sales will be permitted in Cook county. Mr. Watts stated that the law does not require any guarantee bid, but that the county board had arbitrarily fixed minimums that would be permitted. The county board must O. K. tax foreclosures and while they are conducted in the name of the state's attorney, the local taxing body asking fo the foreclosure must retain counsel for the work.

Mayor Goedke, Arlington, stated that at present foreclosures are in process, in each case, the interested realtors or large holder of bonds are paying all the costs without expense to the village.

Mayor Wm. DePue of Palatine, when called upon to tell what Palatine is doing, stated that tax foreclosures are in progress against three tracts at the expense of the interested realtor and that individual property owners are enabled to redeem their property at practically the price paid by the real estate firm.

Mayor Goedke admitted that a general foreclosure on bonds held in small lots by local individuals might work a hardship on people with small means who, on the advice of former officials, invested their life's savings in the bonds. Replying, a speaker stated that in reality when the property owners stopped paying their specials in 1932 and 1933 was when these people lost their bonds and any money they receive today on the bonds can be considered a godsend. Otherwise the bonds will remain worthless.

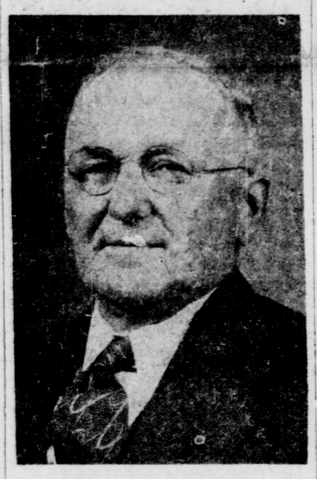

Unless vacant properties are again placed on the tax books they will become blighted districts and be a detriment to the community was pointed out by several speakers.

No concrete plan was suggested or action taken that evening to meet the situation but the thorough discussion enlightened all members.

At the close of the discussion the elementary school board, as hosts, served light refreshments.

Wheeling assessor retires after 12 years service

J. Fred Meyer, who has been assessor of Wheeling township for twelve years will not seek re-election this spring. He made the announcement last week at a meeting of township officials called to discuss the forthcomig township election. "I believe that a public official should retire when, because of personal matters, he is not in a position to give his office the full time and attention that it deserves," stated Mr. Meyer.

"During the twelve years that I have been assessor I feel that I have kept the promises made at election time, and will go out of office with a realization that I have done the best possible for the taxpayers."

Other township officials were reluctant to accept Mr. Meyer's withdrawal, but on his insistence his name will not appear on the petitions that will soon be in circulation.

Mr. Meyer's term of office does not really expire until after he has completed the assessing work of this spring, which will be the 13th time that he has done the work.

He was first elected in 1933. During his term of office radical changes have been made in the assessment rules, the greatest of which was last year when the 100 percent valuation became effective. It has not been an easy job for Mr. Meyer to follow orders from the county assessors office and at the same time protect the interests of the tax payers. In the opinion of the town board Mr. Meyer has done a good job and held the confidence of the tax payers regardless of the size of their tax bills.

Seek opinions on federal aid bill

Federal Aid to Education is a subject now being nationally discussed. What are your views on it? What do you think about Federal Aid Bill (Senate 181 and H. R. 1296)? What do you need to know about it? Mary and Elly, corresponding editors of "Just Around the Corner" want your letters for their column. Send them to Mary or Elly, c-o this paper.

Present officers except two are candidates

Nomination petitions are being circulated in Wheeling township for the coming election on April 3. J. Fred Meyer, assessor, is retiring and Eugene Stroker, constable, is also not a candidate for re-election. Theodore Studtman is candidate for the assessorship, while Jack Clark is taking the place of Constable Stroker. The petitions to be filed will place in nomination the following:

Supervisor, Gilbert Klehm.
Town Clerk, Howard Helm.
Assessor, Theodore Studtman.
Collector, William Annen.
Highway Commissioner, Floyd Dobbins.

Justices of the Peace, C. M. Behrens, William Weber, Harvey Adams, Edward Fritz, William Lawrence.

Constables, C. H. Skogg, Fred Hinz, Harold Lamb, Jack Clerk, Ray Lesch.

All except four of the candidates are residents of Arlington Heights.

Supervisor Klehm represents the rural district, Harold Lamb, Prospect Heights, William Lawrence and Ray Lesch, the village of Wheeling.

VILLAGE ELECTION

Elections will be held in all municipalities this spring for the major offices. In Arlington Heights the offices of mayor, village clerk and three trustees expire. Present incumbants whose terms expire are Mayor Goedke, Clerk Forrest Davis, and trustees, Fred H. Kehe, William Franke and Rudolph Rizzi.

The first day for filing village tickets is Feb. 16; the last day March 13.

1945 Red Cross war fund drive to open March 1

Preparations for the opening of the 1945 Red Cross War Fund campaign are being speeded up throughout the Chicago Chapter area for the opening date of general solicitation on March 1. Each of the 174 separate communities of the County Communities Division of the Chicago Chapter already has been organized to speed up the work of raising the area's total quota of $11,300,000.

In order to make sure that each resident of this vast area of the County Communities Division, with an approximate population of 900,000, will have an opportunity to contribute to the Red Cross War Fund through the division and be counted in on helping to meet the division's quota of $1,100,000, the area has been divided into seven districts, each with a district chairman and coordinator.

Heading the Arlington Heights campaign are chairman, Mrs. H. D. Taylor, 903 E. Euclid ave., and co-chairman, Mrs. Geo. Hieber, 203 N. Belmont st. The Arlington Heights quota of $7,200 is $1,200 more than last year. A house-to-house campaign will be made during the first two weeks in March.

$25 reward

For information leading to arrest and conviction of person or persons guilty of brutally beating brown and black Chow dog last Saturday, February 3, some time between 8:30 and 11:00 a. m. Won't you help to stop this brutality, it might be your pet next.

Seabee seeking re-election as Arlington clerk

Forrest Davis, who is serving Uncle Sam in the Pacific is a candidate for re-election as village clerk of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Davis appeared before the village board Monday evening and asked for nomination petitions, which she stated she intended to circulate for her husband's candidacy.

Mr. Davis was elected to office four years ago. Upon his induction into the Seabees he asked and secured a leave of absence from the village board. Mrs. Helene Busse has been acting clerk during the interim. In seeking re-election Mr. Davis is following the action of Edward J. Barrett, secetary of State, who was a member of the armed forces at the time of his election last November.

Lt. Art North killed Xmas day

Lt. Arthur North of Palatine was killed in action it was learned this week. He was killed Christmas day in Belgium. Lt. North had been reported missing last week.

Art lived in Palatine and attended Palatine schools. He was executive officer of the 75th infantry, going overseas in October. His unit was a member of the First army. His wife, the former Dorothy Stemmerman, lives with her parents at Des Plaines.

Commend boy scouts on anniversary week

Local scouts set enviable record

With "Scouts of the World—Brothers Together" as their theme Boy Scouts, Cubs, Senior Scouts and their adult leaders throughout the United States will commemorate Boy Scout Week which begins Thursday (Feb. 8) and continues through Wednesday, Feb. 14.

The theme was selected for this Boy Scout Week celebration as well as the rest of the year, because there are unmistakable evidences that in this year Scouting will find its rebirth in nation after nation, as fast as the forces of freedom liberate them.

Membership in the 48 Boy Scout Associations in 70 different lands around the world at the outbreak of World War II in 1939 was over the three million mark. Mussolini abolished the Boy Scout Movement in Italy. There never has been Boy Scouting in Germany. Hitler abolished Scouting in each country invaded but there is ample evidence that in many war-torn countries Scouting went underground and managed to keep the spirit of Scouting alive. In Japan the Movement was militarized.

The National Council of the Boy Scouts of America has just established a "World Friendship Fund" which gives all members of the Movement in the United States an opportunity to help in the re-establishment of Scouting in countries being liberated by the fighting forces of the United Nations.

Boy Scouts throughout the world are planning to resume their world-wide friendships, through correspondence, exchange of equipment and by meeting in person at the great World Scout Jamborees after the war ends.

At the Fifth World Scout Jamboree when 26,000 Scouts camped together at Vogelzang in The Netherlands in the summer of 1937, the late Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout of the World, appraised World Scout gatherings by saying:

"By cultivating these friendships such as have been cemented at this great Jamboree, you are preparing the way for solutions of international problems. This will have a vital and very far-reaching effect throughout the world in the cause of peace, and so I pledge all of you here in this great assembly of youth, to do your absolute utmost to establish friendship among Scouts of all nations."

Boy Scout Week marks the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Movement in America. Since Feb. 8, 1910, more than 12,000,000 men and boys have been in Scouting. The present-day active enrollment is more than 1,800,000 Cubs, Scouts, Senior Scouts and adult volunteer leaders.

The birthday will be observed in every city and town in the nation and in hundreds of villages and hamlets as well.

Boy Scouts, Cubs and Senior Scouts have performed many services vital to the war effort in recent months. In a recent two months drive for sorely needed waste paper the Boy Scouts salvaged 120,000 tons. Incomplete reports show that 85,968 Scouts and Cubs collected over a half ton each while more than 400,000 boys brought in more than 500 pounds each.

Late in September and in early October Scouts and Cubs collected enough milkweed floss to make one million life jackets for the armed forces for use while afloat.

Last year the Boy Scouts of America distributed more than 20,000,000 posters for the Office of War Information. In addition members aided rationing boards, Selective Service Boards, Community Chests, War Chests and Foreign Relief. They took an active part in the War Loan campaigns, not only in distributing literature and helping at the War Loan headquarters, but also taking orders for Bonds and Stamps. Special Scouts-at-War Minute Man Flags are being proudly displayed by Troops, Cub Packs and Senior Scout groups which have 90 per cent of their members buying War Bonds or Stamps regularly in addition to each member having someone else of his household making regular purchases.

During Boy Scout Week Scouts will take over many store windows to display some of their handicraft and to demonstrate some of the skills they acquire through the program. Investiture ceremonies during the week will bring hundreds of new boys into the ranks of Scouting. Scouts will rededicate themselves to the Scout Oath and Law on Thursday (Feb. 8) which is the actual anniversary day of the original incorporation of the Movement at Washingto, D. C.

At Parents' Night meeting, boys will be hosts to their fathers, mothers and other adult relatives and friends, demonstrating to them that Scouting is in reality "democracy at work." Parents and boys alike will have an evening of entertainment through Scout games, stunts, campfire songs and skits.

In line with theme of the celebration this year, many Troops and Cub Packs are working toward adopting some group of brother Scouts or Cubs in war-torn lands and helping them rebuild their group.

Sunday, Feb. 11 is Boy Scout Sunday and Cubs, Boy Scouts, Senior Scouts and their Leaders will attend church services in uniform.

In Arlington

During 1944 Arlington Heights Boy Scouts contributed 172,370 pounds of waste paper to the national drive. Collections were made from time to time, netting a handsome profit. Proceeds were shared by the scouts and OCD. Another pick-up will be made in April. Frank Havranek of the Scouts and Kenneth Gregory of the OCD serve as co-chairmen of local waste paper drives.

Firemen beat Soft Water keglers

The attempt Sunday to put down the Arlington Firemen by the Soft Water bowling team was unsuccessful, the firemen winning by 96 pins. The match was rolled on the Arlington alleys.

This Sunday the Soft Water boys are taking on the Benjamin Electric keglers at Des Plaines. Interest has waxed high at Benjamin, with Joe Brodnan of Arlington on the team. The Soft Water squad feel they can come through, however, and are all set for Sunday at 2 at the Des Plaines alleys.

Missing nephew wounded in Belgium

Staff Sergeant Walter Gaede, nephew of Mrs. Henry Wessel of Palatine has been found, it was learned this week. He had been wounded in Belgium, and is recuperating in Holland. This was the second time he was wounded in Belgium. S-Sgt. Gaede hails from South Dakota.

Parents find son reported missing returned to duty

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Moehling, Arlington Heights, received word Wednesday morning from the war department that their son, Pfc. Harold Moehling, returned to duty. Jan. 19. His parents had been informed early in January that he was missing since Dec. 20th. They had previously received letters from him dated Dec. 26 and January 1.

Pfc. Ray Engelking of Palatine, also reported missing Dec. 20, was back on duty with his company Jan. 19 according to word received Wednesday by his wife who lives in Barrington. She had received several letters written in January, the last of which is especially interesting as he had just learned that he had been reported missing.

Ray wrote that he had received a pay check on which was written "missing in action," which was not true. Thinking that the "missing" covered part of January, he said that while driving a truck through the country, the truck broke down, and he remained a week with an elderly French woman with whom he shared a box of Fannie Mays, the first candy she had tasted in over four years.

Await word of Roselle missionary

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Carlson, of Roselle, are anxiously awaiting word from their daughter, Doris, who when last heard from was a prisoner at the Baguio prison camp, 150 miles north of Manila, which has not yet been reached by the Americans.

Miss Carlson, 35, a missionary was sent to Pekin, China, in 1940. Because of the war there she was transferred to Camp Holmes, Philippines, where with 500 others she was interned by the Japs.

Prisoner in Jap homeland

Ray Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peters, 1330 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, who was formerly a prisoner in the Philippines, is now held in Japan, according to the latest word received by his parents. Ray has been in the navy 20 years.

Sleighbells ring in Roselle

Roselle extends a hearty invitation to Paddock Publications, Doctor Best, John Firnbach, and any other 'Heights' people, who have a nostalgic longing to hear sleigh bells, to come out our way any afternoon or moonlight night.

Ever since the first heavy snowfall in December, the children (and grown-ups, too) have made sleighing their first choice as a means for amusement and relaxation. We have seen all manner of one and two horse sleighs; and even a small homemade sled just big enough for a pony to pull.

We have seen this little pony pulling his load of rosy-cheeked children, the groceries, and a supply of kerosene "to heat the chicken coop", we were told. And as the precious cargo slipped over the snow, the bells jingled gaily—a sight and sound to cheer the heart.

One enthusiastic family solved the seating capacity problem by tying a toboggan to their horse's harness, and away they all go, whether the temperature's above or below zero.

Yes, siree, Roselle has sleighs and sleighbells!

Mrs. S. R. Paddock, Jr. dies in hospital; husband overseas

The cablegram forwarded to Captain Stuart R. Paddock, Jr., Monday, in addition to carrying the announcement of the birth of a daughter, informed him that his wife had died in a hospital at Paducah, Kentucky. Capt. Paddock is with General Patton's 3rd army.

Capt. and Mrs. Paddock were married October 3, 1943. Mrs. Paddock had spent the last few months before her husband's departure for overseas duty with him at Camp McCoy. She was making her home with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Burroughs at Bardwell, Kentucky, since he left.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Paddock, Sr., are attending the funeral at Bardwell Thursday.

High school loses Miss Kral to Mo. college

Miss Virginia Kral, teacher of public speaking and dramatics coach in the Arlington Heights high school, has resigned from her position in the school to take a position in Webster College, Webster Groves, Mo.

Miss Kral's leaving will be felt keenly by both students and faculty. She has shown marked ability in the teaching of her subjects, and the many plays and programs that she has prepared have been thoroughly enjoyed not only by those who participated in them but also by those who witnessed them.

Her cooperative and helpful attitude toward faculty problems has made her a valuable addition to the teaching staff. She leaves a place in the minds and hearts of Arlington students and faculty members that cannot easily be refilled.

The community has also profited by Miss Kral's talent. Many organizations have benefited from her cheerful and ready response to requests for help in presenting programs. Her clever readings have been a favorite spot on many programs during her three and one half years in Arlington Heights.

Miss Kral is to be congratulated on her new position which will undoubtedly provide an opportunity for further advancement in her chosen profession.

The women members of the faculty participated in a farewell party for Miss Kral Tuesday evening, January 30.

During the last two summers Miss Kral has assisted in the speech department at Northwestern University and has taken graduate work there.

G. I. Bill of Rights expert at Arlington

Frederick B. Bourland, special representative of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration, Washington, D. C., will speak at the Arlington Heights Legion Home Tuesday evening, February 13, at 8:00 o'clock, on the government guaranty of loans to all eligible demobilized servicemen and women.

Mr. Bourland has for many years been in public relations work in all of the twelve Bank Districts of the Federal Bank system. His work has principally to do with the problems the war has brought about as housing priorities, war housing, financing of war housing by private industry, post war planning and finally a complete study of the G. I. Bill of Rights and its application to the private mortgage industry.

Since this act was passed in June of last year he has been in close touch with the proposed legislation and the committees which were charged with the regulations. Mr. Bourland has made a great number of addresses before large groups throughout the country and has discussed the bill with almost all types of lenders and government agencies. His background also includes 20 years in the mortgage and real estate business in Peoria and several years as Illinois State Manager of the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

As this servicemen's readjustment act of 1944 gives the G. I. Joe of this war a chance to re-establish themselves through guaranty of loans, it will indirectly affect and aid millions of citizens on the home front.

The Arlington Heights Legion Post is fortunate in securing such a qualified speaker on this all important subject for their next regular meeting.

An invitation is extended members and others in the community who are interested in learning more about the G. I. loans to attend Tuesday night.

Lt. Minnie Breese cares for wounded

Lt. Minnie L. Breese, army nurse, formerly of Arlington Heights, was rescued by Gen. MacArthur's forces Sunday at Santo Tomas prison camp in Manila. She was one of 69 hospital nurses and technicians rescued whose names were released by the army Monday. There were 1,350 prisoners freed when a small contingent of American soldiers rushed to the former college grounds, surprising the Japs.

A truce was arranged with sixty-nine Jap officers and men, who had taken with them 270 allied prisoners as hostages and barricaded themselves in the education building of the university. The Nips demanded the honor of going out to rejoin their forces bearing their own arms. The alternative was a battle in which many civilians might have been killed.

Their request was granted after their packs had been searched. They marched through the captured part of the city between two files of American soldiers.

Number of prisoners rise

When the entire city was occupied later in the day the number of prisoners and internees rescued rose to over 3,700. By Tuesday the list had passed 5,400.

The last word heard from Lt. Breese was before Christmas when her mother received a card stating that she was well.

In a previous letter written August 12, 1943, and received by her brother, Willis Breese of Arlington Heights, in December of that year, Lt. Breese wrote:

"I have been very well. Am nursing at present in a hospital for old men. Not hard work. Have plenty of time to read, knit, etc. Time flies fast. Food is good, under present conditions.

"There are many camp activities . . . Living conditions are rather crowded but clean. I am fortunate in that I have all of my clothes. So many people have lost all of their belongings. Money is scarce but I get along without it."

Conditions evidently changed since the summer of 1943. Interviews with rescued persons tell stories of brutal treatment and calculated malnutrition. Up to last August men lost an average of 27 pounds and women 16 pounds. Since August the men have lost an additional 24 pounds and women an additional 16 pounds.

Get Carabao bones

On Thanksgiving and Christmas days Filipinos and Leutrals, who brought food to the camp, were turned away. Children foraged in garbage pails of their Japanese guards for bits of food.

The camp had its first taste of meat in months when the Japs slaughtered two carabao and distributed 120 pounds of bones.

American troopers emptied their packs for half starved men, women and children released from Japanese captivity.

The cavalry men were shocked at the emaciated condition of some of the prisoners. All were thin and weak from malnutrition.

Death rate increases

Physicians among the prisoners said their food allowances dwindled as the war turned against the Japanese. The death rate rose sharply, the major cause being starvation. There was a somber note to the story, a forewarning to relatives of those who failed to survive.

The prisoners said they had lived almost entirely on rice, camotes (resembling sweet potato roots) and garbage can salvage.

The Japanese told prisoners "Unless we give you more food you'll starve, and we don't care if you do."

Keep active

During their captivity the internees worked hard to keep their minds occupied. Children attended classes regularly and kept up with similar age groups in school. The clay soil available for gardening was too poor to raise much but greens, yet it was tilled industriously.

Army nurses labored to maintain the health of the group. Among them were Lt. Minnie Breese. News reports are that she is today helping to care for the wounded in Manila.

Minnie Breese resided in Arlington Heights twenty years. She is a graduate of Arlington Heights high school and St. Francis hospital school of nursing. She has been in the army nurse corps for about eight years. Lt. Breese was sent to the Philippines in 1940, and accompanied the army to Corregidor, where she was captured with the fall of that stronghold. Her mother and a brother now reside in St. Louis.

American Legion

Another important Legion event will be the attraction at the Field House in Arlington Heights Thursday evening, February 22, at which time members from neighboring Posts will be initiated as Legionnaires.

Naval Post of Chicago will exemplify the work and it is expected that some fifty or more members will receive the benefit of the initiatory work. This Post is State Champion in the ritual part of the Legion work and their work is of well known precision and efficiency.

In addition to the initiation the principal speaker for the evening will be Hon. Ellidor Libbonatti who is one of the outstanding legionnaires of the state and is well posted in legion, state, national and community affairs.

See the front page for details of the legion meeting which will be held at the Legion Home February 13, and at which time Mr. Frederick B. Bourland will discuss the provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights, more specially in respect to loans.

Girls lose in match game

In a fast and exciting bowling match at Arlington Recreation Saturday night, February 3, the Itasca Merchants of the Bensenville Major Bowling League defeated the J. B. Simpson girls from Chicago, scores being as follows:

Simpson Clothes
Ruth Bsyna	168	155	179	502
June Olson	147	160	191	498
Irene Engel	155	216	215	587
Eleanor Lortg	224	142	125	491
S Astrowski	172	181	149	502

H. Peters	182	157	209	548
J. Vranlak	228	183	184	595
	911	899	935	2736

initial game the Merchants were never headed although the girls were in there pitching all the way and time and time again brought the packed house to their feet with their ability to keep going when the breaks were against them. They displayed a fine brand of sportsmanship and certainly are a credit to the game.

Vitamins, if needed are more valuable than diamonds

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Drug Store

You may be one of those fortunate people who have no need for extra vitamins. Your diet is so balanced, your assimilation of foods is so perfect that you need no more.

The chances are, however, that you do need additional Vitamins. If so, they are worth more to you than priceless gems.

They are simple and easy to take, readily available, the best are the least expensive and when needed are worth their weight in diamonds. They restore to your system the minerals and salts which the strain of modern living conditions may have wasted without your knowing it.

If your doctor has not recommended a certain label, ask a reputable druggist to suggest the Vitamins.

Rest Home notes

It was something of a shock to the entire Rest Home family last Wednesday night when Grandma Sanford was called to her eternal home. Grandpa, though noticeably stunned by the blow, holds up remarkably well.

Thursday morning at 8 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Hansen arranged a little service in Grandpa's room.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan W. Sanford of Lincoln, Illinois, have resided at the Rest Home since April 14, 1943. On Christmas day of 1943 they celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary. Open house was held for them, at which time 80 guests called to enjoy the day with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford moved to Lincoln, Illinois, in 1883, where Mr. Sanford operated a furniture store for many years. They had two sons, Marshall C. and Elmer Sanford, both of whom preceded them in death. Surviving are a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Elmer Sanford, of Lincoln, and two granddaughters, Mrs. Paul Stroud, of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Helen Bishop of Champaign.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Foutch of Des Plaines called on their uncle, Mr. Burge, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. P. N. Heberg enjoyed a visit from his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Schneider, and his son-in-law, Mr. Alex J. Busch, all of Chicago on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Mabel Haggarty and a friend, Miss Emma Turnow, both of Chicago, spent Sunday afternoon at the Home with Miss Carrie Haggarty.

Mrs. John Walkup and her sister and daughter-in-law visited with Grandpa Sanford at the Home Sunday afternoon. They live at Crystal Lake.

Miss Bertha Burdick of Elgin, another niece, spent the day Wednesday with Mr. Sanford.

CARD OF THANKS

The sympathy and kind ministrations of relatives, neighbors and friends in the dark hours of the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother, the lovely floral tributes, the comforting words of Rev. Toepel, the music of Mr. Rohde and the soloist, and the many thoughtful acts of service by the Oehler staff shall all remain a very precious memory. Our most grateful thanks.

Adolph & Arnold Moeller.

Guest preacher at Mt. Prospect church

The Rev. Charles R. Johnson will be the guest preacher at St. John's church, Mt. Prospect, this next Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Johnson, a deacon of he church, is at present studying at Nashotah House seminary in Wisconsin and will be graduated from that institution next May.

Rev. Johnson comes from Omaha, Nebraska, where as a layman he did an excellent piece of work in the reorganization of a small mission. More recently he has been doing work as a lay reader at St. Peters church, North Lake, Wisconsin, under the supervision of the Bishop of Milwaukee. Again he has proved very able and promises to be an excellent priest and pastor of Christ's flock.

Emma Wilke goes to Hollywood for coming styles

Emma Wilke of the Emerald Shop, Arlington Heights, left Tuesday evening for California, where she will spend three weeks to pick up the latest in Hollywood styles and dress. Due to war restrictions, the dress manufacturers had little to offer retailers at the recent woman's apparel show in Chicago. Miss Wilke expects to be more fortunate in the west.

While in Los Angeles she will visit her aunt, Mrs. Christ Schoenbeck.

Bill Adam dies Wednesday

Mr. William Adam, 210 S. Dunton st., Arlington Heights, passed away at his home early Wednesday morning. The body will lie in state at Lauterburg and Oehler funeral home.

Services will be held Saturday at St. Peter's Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, at 2:30 p. m. Interment will be at the Arlington Heights Lutheran cemetery.

Business men meet Wednesday

The annual meeting of Arlington Heights business men will be held next Thursday at the village hall, when the suggested changes in by-laws will be considered. As this is a very important meeting, all business men are urged to attend. Any action taken should be by a representative membership.

Scout court of honor Wednesday

Awards to Arlington Heights Boy Scouts for advancements earned during the past three months will be made on February 14, R. E. Clabaugh, chairman of the Board of Review announced today. The meeting will be held at the Field House at 8 p. m. All scouts and cubs and their parents and friends are invited to attend.

In addition to second class, first class, and star ranks and merit badge awards, this court will include the presentation of the Eagle rank to Hume Young, Jr. The Eagle rank represents a significant achievement in scouting.

The program will include moving pictures particularly chosen for scouts and cubs.

Their titles 'Scouting's Silent Assistant", "The Cubbing News", and "The Scoutmaster" indicate an interesting evening for boys and their parents.

Refreshments will be served following the closing flag ceremony conducted by scouts of Troop No. 32.

American Legion

Another important Legion event will be the attraction at the Field House in Arlington Heights Thursday evening, February 22, at which time members from neighboring Posts will be initiated as Legionnaires.

Naval Post of Chicago will exemplify the work and it is expected that some fifty or more members will receive the benefit of the initiatory work. This Post is State Champion in the ritual part of the Legion work and their work is of well known precision and efficiency.

In addition to the initiation the principal speaker for the evening will be Hon. Ellidor Libbonatti who is one of the outstanding legionnaires of the state and is well posted in legion, state, national and community affairs.

See the front page for details of the legion meeting which will be held at the Legion Home February 13, and at which time Mr. Frederick B. Bourland will discuss the provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights, more specially in respect to loans.

Girls lose in match game

In a fast and exciting bowling match at Arlington Recreation Saturday night, February 3, the Itasca Merchants of the Bensenville Major Bowling League defeated the J. B. Simpson girls from Chicago, scores being as follows:

Simpson Clothes
Ruth Bayna	168	155	179—	502
June Olson	147	160	191—	498
Irene Engel	155	216	215—	587
Eleanor Lorig	224	142	125—	491
S Astrowski	172	181	149—	502
Handicap	10	10	10—	30
	876	864	869—	2609
Itasca Merchants
R. Kehe	199	190	149—	538
H. Lawrence	169	187	203—	559
G. Harris	133	173	190—	496
H. Peters	182	157	209—	548
J. Vranlak	228	183	184—	595
	911	890	935—	2736

initial game the Merchants were never headed although the girls were in there pitching all the way and time and time again brought the packed house to their feet with their ability to keep going when the breaks were against them. They displayed a fine brand of sportsmanship and certainly are a credit to the game.

Vitamins, if needed are more valuable than diamonds

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Drug Store

You may be one of those fortunate people who have no need for extra vitamins. Your diet is so balanced, your assimilation of foods is so perfect that you need no more.

The chances are, however, that you do need additional Vitamins. If so, they are worth more to you than priceless gems.

They are simple and easy to take, readily available, the best are the least expensive and when needed are worth their weight in diamonds. They restore to your system the minerals and salts which the strain of modern living conditions may have wasted without your knowing it.

If your doctor has not recommended a certain label, ask a reputable druggist to suggest the Vitamins.

Guest preacher at Mt. Prospect church

The Rev. Charles R. Johnson will be the guest preacher at St. John's church, Mt. Prospect, this next Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Johnson, a deacon of he church, is at present studying at Nashotah House seminary in Wisconsin and will be graduated from that institution next May.

Rev. Johnson comes from Omaha, Nebraska, where as a layman he did an excellent piece of work in the reorganization of a small mission. More recently he has been doing work as a lay reader at St. Peters church, North Lake, Wisconsin, under the supervision of the Bishop of Milwaukee. Again he has proved very able and promises to be an excellent priest and pastor of Christ's flock.

Emma Wilke goes to Hollywood for coming styles

Emma Wilke of the Emerald Shop, Arlington Heights, left Tuesday evening for California, where she will spend three weeks to pick up the latest in Hollywood styles and dress. Due to war restrictions, the dress manufacturers had little to offer retailers at the recent woman's apparel show in Chicago. Miss Wilke expects to be more fortunate in the west.

While in Los Angeles she will visit her aunt, Mrs. Christ Schoenbeck.

Bill Adam dies Wednesday

Mr. William Adam, 210 S. Dunton st., Arlington Heights, passed away at his home early Wednesday morning. The body will lie in state at Lauterburg and Oehler funeral home.

Services will be held Saturday at St. Peter's Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, at 2:30 p. m. Interment will be at the Arlington Heights Lutheran cemetery.

Business men meet Wednesday

The annual meeting of Arlington Heights business men will be held next Thursday at the village hall, when the suggested changes in by-laws will be considered. As this is a very important meeting, all business men are urged to attend. Any action taken should be by a representative membership.

Scout court of honor Wednesday

Awards to Arlington Heights Boy Scouts for advancements earned during the past three months will be made on February 14, R. E. Clabaugh, chairman of the Board of Review announced today. The meeting will be held at the Field House at 8 p. m. All scouts and cubs and their parents and friends are invited to attend.

In addition to second class, first class, and star ranks and merit badge awards, this court will include the presentation of the Eagle rank to Hume Young, Jr. The Eagle rank represents a significant achievement in scouting.

The program will include moving pictures particularly chosen for scouts and cubs.

Their titles 'Scouting's Silent Assistant", "The Cubbing News", and "The Scoutmaster" indicate an interesting evening for boys and their parents.

Refreshments will be served following the closing flag ceremony conducted by scouts of Troop No. 32.

Many speakers at Lenten services at Methodist churches

During the six weeks of Lent the Arlington Heights Methodist Meeting House will have an outstanding speaker each Wednesday evening present some phase of Methodism's D-Day. The Lenten service is to be presented by a potluck fellowship supper. The supper will be served at 6:45 p. m. and the main speaker of the evening will begin at 7:45 p. m.

Dr. George Fowler, district superintendent of the Chicago Northern District, will be the first speaker. Dr. Fowler is in charge of all of Methodist churches in this area. Dr. Fowler will speak on the subject "A Mighty Army Moves."

The other five speakers come with great messages and from some of the more important churches and specialized departments of the church. Among them will be the Rev. Don Crocker of Cuyler ave. Church, Oak Park; the Rev. Raymond Buck of the First Church, Geneva; Dr. Carl Soule of the World Peace Commission; Dr. James W. Workman of the Board of Lay Activities; Dr. Thomas B. Lugg, treasurer of the Crusade for Christ. Each man will make a notable contribution to the total thinking of the church during these times.

AT THE ARLINGTON SATURDAY

Romance enters into the Sport of Kings in this scene from "Thoroughbreds," with Tom Neal, Adele Mara, Roger Pryor, and Paul Harvey Showing at the Arlington this Saturday with "U-Boat Prisoner."

Second session of mission school this Sunday

The second session of the Presbyterian school of missions will be held Sunday evening at 7:15 o'clock at the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church. There will be a motion picture in color on Africa entitled "Body and Soul", and a worship period conducted by the Ladies' Aid Society. There will be discussions for different age groups on Southeast Asia and the American Indian led by Mrs. C. E. McWharter, Lorraine Jackson, and Mrs. Albert Bauer.

Last Sunday evening a good crowd attended and was very much pleased with the program. The program this Sunday evening should be just as good. Everybody is invited.

The complete schedule of the program is as follows:

7:15-7:40 p. m. Worship conducted by the Ladies' Aid Society.

7:40-8:10 p. m. class period.

1. Adults. "Unfolding Drama in Southeast Asia: The Human Scene" led by Mrs. C. E. McWharter.

II. Young people. Same theme as adults led by Lorraine Jackson.

III. Juniors. "Peter the Mesa", a story of an Indian, led by Mrs. Albert Bauer and teachers of the Junior Department.

8:10-8:40 p. m. Motion picture in color on Africa entitled "Body and Soul."

8:45 p. m. Benediction.

Lenten services begin next week

Lenten services will be held at the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church each Wednesday evening during Lent from 7:30 to 8:15 o'clock. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Herman G. McCoy, will speak at these services on the general theme "Great Questions of the Last Week."

The first service will be this coming Wednesday evening, February 14.

The complete schedule of the services is as follows:

Feb. 14. "Who Is This Jesus?"
Feb. 21 "Shall We Render Tribute to God or Caesar?"
Feb. 28 "Which Commandment is Greatest?"
March 7 "What Think Ye of Christ?"
March 14 "How Shall We Know the Way?"
March 21 "What Then Shall We Do with Jesus Who is Called the Christ?"

Lutheran Lenten services in loop

The Loop Lutheran Lenten services, conducted under the auspices of the Lutheran Bureau, Inc., will be held every Wednesday, and every day during holy week, at the Central Y. M. C. A. auditorium, 19 S LaSalle st., from 12:10 to 12:40 p. m. Two services will be held on Good Friday at 12:05 to 12:35 p. m. and 12:40 to 1:10 p. m. Rev. A. R. Kretzmann will conduct the services on February 14.

Announce program for Sundays during Lent

The Rev. Milo J. Vondracek, minister of the Arlington Heights Methodist Meeting House, announces "These Shared His Cross" as his theme for the six Sunday mornings during Lent. The personalities that shared Jesus Cross are not unlike the everyday men we see about us every day. The choir under the direction of Mr. Jack Everett will provide suitable music to go with this season of deep reflection and reconsecration.

The first sermon of the Lenten series is "A Plain Man Looks At the Cross".

● Health by the package? It isn't as fantastic as it may sound. For packaged vitamins play an important role in keeping your family feeling fit. And because vitamins must be "bought on faith," it is important to rely on an established pharmaceutical source. We specialize in ABBOTT vitamin products. Ask your Doctor about their quality.

Day in, day out, Gas protects health, costs only pennies!

"3 years of health and happiness . . .

'cause my Mom chose an automatic GAS water heater.

3 years old and growing strong—Jimmy's folks were wise as owls—chose an automatic GAS water heater above all others. They knew, as millions of families do, that a gas water heater means—water when, where, and how you want it!

And that's one of the big reasons why Baby Jim is such a healthy, happy boy today. There was always plenty of temperature-right water available every day for Jimmy's bath. (And everybody knows a baby needs twice the amount of water a grown-up does.) There was always hot water ready for emergencies—like the night Jimmy had cramps. Thanks to the automatic gas water heater, there was hot water available even at 3 a. m. And baby's laundry problems were a cinch. Mother always had plenty of hot water to do the job right.

The story of Jimmy is no test case. It's a story that happens every day in millions of American homes. An automatic GAS water heater is a big asset to every member of the family. Junior scrubs with glee after football practice. Dad has long since forgotten Polar Bear baths, icicle shaves. Day after day mother has plenty of HOT water for dishes and laundry. And the whole family knows there's hot water ready for any emergency! So if you want to protect the health and happiness of your family—be sure to include an economical automatic GAS water heater in your postwar home plan.

Protect Your Precious Gas Water Heater!

1. Check it periodically—keep burner clear of dirt and sediment.
2. In use of coil heaters, for economy be sure that heater does not burn longer than necessary to supply your hot water needs.
3. Don't set thermostat too high on an automatic GAS storage water heater—130° F. is considered generally satisfactory.

Many speakers at Lenten services at Methodist churches

During the six weeks of Lent the Arlington Heights Methodist Meeting House will have an outstanding speaker each Wednesday evening present some phase of Methodism's D-Day. The Lenten service is to be presented by a potluck fellowship supper. The supper will be served at 6:45 p. m. and the main speaker of the evening will begin at 7:45 p. m.

Dr. George Fowler, district superintendent of the Chicago Northern District, will be the first speaker. Dr. Fowler is in charge of all of Methodist churches in this area. Dr. Fowler will speak on the subject "A Mighty Army Moves."

The other five speakers come with great messages and from some of the more important churches and specialized departments of the church. Among them will be the Rev. Don Crocker of Cuyler ave. Church, Oak Park; the Rev. Raymond Buck of the First Church, Geneva; Dr. Carl Soule of the World Peace Commission; Dr. James W. Workman of the Board of Lay Activities; Dr. Thomas B. Lugg, treasurer of the Crusade for Christ. Each man will make a notable contribution to the total thinking of the church during these times.

Second session of mission school this Sunday

The second session of the Presbyterian school of missions will be held Sunday evening at 7:15 o'clock at the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church. There will be a motion picture in color on Africa entitled "Body and Soul", and a worship period conducted by the Ladies' Aid Society. There will be discussions for different age groups on Southeast Asia and the American Indian led by Mrs. C. E. McWharter, Lorraine Jackson, and Mrs. Albert Bauer.

Last Sunday evening a good crowd attended and was very much pleased with the program. The program this Sunday evening should be just as good. Everybody is invited.

The complete schedule of the program is as follows:

7:15-7:40 p. m. Worship conducted by the Ladies' Aid Society.

7:40-8:10 p. m. class period.

1. Adults. "Unfolding Drama in Southeast Asia: The Human Scene" led by Mrs. C. E. McWharter.

II. Young people. Same theme as adults led by Lorraine Jackson.

III. Juniors. "Peter the Mesa", a story of an Indian, led by Mrs. Albert Bauer and teachers of the Junior Department.

8:10-8:40 p. m. Motion picture in color on Africa entitled "Body and Soul."

8:45 p. m. Benediction.

Lenten services begin next week

Lenten services will be held at the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church each Wednesday evening during Lent from 7:30 to 8:15 o'clock. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Herman G. McCoy, will speak at these services on the general theme "Great Questions of the Last Week."

The first service will be this coming Wednesday evening, February 14.

The complete schedule of the services is as follows:

Feb. 14. "Who Is This Jesus?"

Feb. 21 "Shall We Render Tribute to God or Caesar?"

Feb. 28 "Which Commandment is Greatest?"

March 7 "What Think Ye of Christ?"

March 14 "How Shall We Know the Way?"

March 21 "What Then Shall We Do with Jesus Who is Called the Christ?"

Lutheran Lenten services in loop

The Loop Lutheran Lenten services, conducted under the auspices of the Lutheran Bureau, Inc., will be held every Wednesday, and every day during holy week, at the Central Y. M. C. A. auditorium, 19 S LaSalle st., from 12:10 to 12:40 p. m. Two services will be held on Good Friday at 12:05 to 12:35 p. m. and 12:40 to 1:10 p. m. Rev. A. R. Kretzmann will conduct the services on February 14.

Announce program for Sundays during Lent

The Rev. Milo J. Vondracek, minister of the Arlington Heights Methodist Meeting House, announces "These Shared His Cross" as his theme for the six Sunday mornings during Lent. The personalities that shared Jesus Cross are not unlike the everyday men we see about us every day. The choir under the direction of Mr. Jack Everett will provide suitable music to go with this season of deep reflection and reconsecration.

The first sermon of the Lenten series is "A Plain Man Looks At the Cross".

"...and a package of HEALTH for the family!"

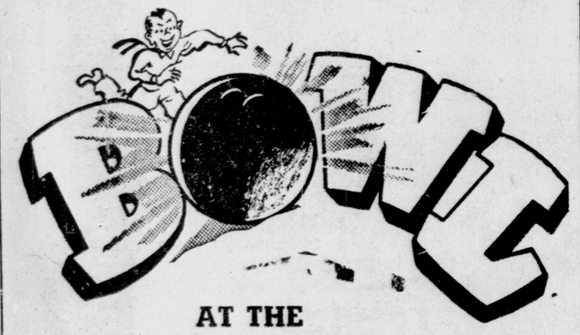

● Health by the package? It isn't as fantastic as it may sound. For packaged vitamins play an important role in keeping your family feeling fit. And because vitamins must be "bought on faith," it is important to rely on an established pharmaceutical source. We specialize in ABBOTT vitamin products. Ask your Doctor about their quality.

Day in, day out, Gas protects health, costs only pennies!

"3 years of health and happiness . . .

'cause my Mom chose an automatic GAS water heater.

3 years old and growing strong—Jimmy's folks were wise as owls—chose an automatic GAS water heater above all others. They knew, as millions of families do, that a gas water heater means—water when, where, and how you want it!

And that's one of the big reasons why Baby Jim is such a healthy, happy boy today. There was always plenty of temperature-right water available every day for Jimmy's bath. (And everybody knows a baby needs twice the amount of water a grown-up does.) There was always hot water ready for emergencies—like the night Jimmy had cramps. Thanks to the automatic gas water heater, there was hot water available even at 3 a. m. And baby's laundry problems were a cinch. Mother always had plenty of hot water to do the job right.

The story of Jimmy is no test case. It's a story that happens every day in millions of American homes. An automatic GAS water heater is a big asset to every member of the family. Junior scrubs with glee after football practice. Dad has long since forgotten Polar Bear baths, icicle shaves. Day after day mother has plenty of HOT water for dishes and laundry. And the whole family knows there's hot water ready for any emergency! So if you want to protect the health and happiness of your family—be sure to include an economical automatic GAS water heater in your postwar home plan.

Protect Your Precious Gas Water Heater!

1. Check it periodically—keep burner clear of dirt and sediment.
2. In use of coil heaters, for economy be sure that heater does not burn longer than necessary to supply your hot water needs.
3. Don't set thermostat too high on an automatic GAS storage water heater—130° F. is considered generally satisfactory.

Illustrated lecture on bees Wednesday

Most people know that bees make honey and that they sting. This is hardly an adequate description of all that bees do. They are really quite interesting fellows when you get to know them.

Of course if getting to know them better means learning first hand, most of us would rather not know so much about them. But if we can learn from seeing beautiful colored moving pictures—well that's different.

Thanks to Mr. Meineke this is the opportunity which he offers to the people of Arlington this Wednesday evening, February 14. The film has some of the most beautiful colored close ups of flowers ever seen. Those who have already seen it will want to bring their friends and see it again.

Here are some questions that will be answered. Can only a queen bee lay eggs? Do bees fly in winter? Is the bee beneficial to the garden? Are bees essential to a fruit crop? How does a bee find its way home? Do bees steal fom each other? Does a bee have a sex life?

Everyone can learn the answers to these and many other questions about bees next Wednesday, February 14 at the Arlington Heights North school at 8 p. m. All are invited.

American Legion auxiliary notes

There was a good attendance at the American Legion Auxiliary meeting held at Arlington Heights Legion hall on Tuesday evening. The committee reports were interesting and money was voted for the Red Cross drive and parties and hospitals and the ninth district.

Camille Peroutka, Americanism chairman and Mae Wisersky, national defense chairman, gave a joint program. Owing to weather and road conditions they very sensibly decided not to ask an outside speaker. Camille Peroutka spoke of the birthday dates in the month of February and read a paper furnished by Mr. Lee Libonati, department Americanism chairman, entitled "America Remembers George Washington", which was very good. Mae Wisersky read a letter from the Russell boys over in Europe expressing their thanks for the box of goodies sent them by the Auxiliary. She asked for good books for the merchant marines to be taken to her house on the twentieth.

To end the program Pauline Russell sang "Our Own United States", accompanied by her mother which was greatly appreciated. After adjournement the hostesses, Della Crane and Laura McElhose, served cherry pie alamode and coffee.

Dennison's had made it possible to achieve a gorgeous effect with little effort. What would our grandmothers think if it were possible for them to see a table gay in patriotic colors with candles, the center piece of small flags and red hatchets for favors.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Goedke entertained Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hahnfeld, of Palatine, and Mrs. Albert Goedke Wednesday evening in honor of their little daughter, Leah Ray's second birthday. Leah Ray had two birthday cakes with candles and received many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Roy Snakenberg of Sigourney, Iowa, spent the week end visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. B. G. Baxter and other Arlington Heights relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bollero spent last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bollero in Morris, Ill.

Mrs. Joseph Podzimek, 307 N. Vail ave., entertained her pinochle club Friday afternoon in celebration of her birthday.

Harry Greinke has been ill for several weeks.

Mrs. C. P. Draper spent last week with relatives in Woodstock.

Judy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orris Neagle, was 2 years old Feb. 1. A cake with 2 candles, ice cream and a merry party marked the event for Judy.

Mrs. H. C. Cleveland and Mrs. George Hughes visited Mrs. S. C. Hodgkins Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Horcher and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schoppman went to Prairie View Sunday to attend the 33rd wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Pfister.

Mrs. Allen Schulte is visiting two weeks with her daughter, Sp. C1c Ruth Schulte, who is stationed with the Waves in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Tesch entertained the past officers club of OES Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyer, Mr. Jess Hausam, Mrs. Ed. Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Annen and daughters, Patricia and Mrs. F. J. Bolain, attended the funeral of Albert P. Meyer in Sharon, Wis., on Tuesday.

Mrs. Theo. J. Kraska, mother of Mrs. G. E. Staahl of 17 S. Belmont, has recently returned to her teaching position in Buffalo, N. Y., after spending two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Staahl. Mrs. Kraska came to Arlington Heights to visit her month old twin grandsons, Eddy and Teddy.

American Legion auxiliary notes

There was a good attendance at the American Legion Auxiliary meeting held at Arlington Heights Legion hall on Tuesday evening. The committee reports were interesting and money was voted for the Red Cross drive and parties and hospitals and the ninth district.

Camille Peroutka, Americanism chairman and Mae Wisersky, national defense chairman, gave a joint program. Owing to weather and road conditions they very sensibly decided not to ask an outside speaker. Camille Peroutka spoke of the birthday dates in the month of February and read a paper furnished by Mr. Lee Libonati, department Americanism chairman, entitled "America Remembers George Washington", which was very good. Mae Wisersky read a letter from the Russell boys over in Europe expressing their thanks for the box of goodies sent them by the Auxiliary. She asked for good books for the merchant marines to be taken to her house on the twentieth.

To end the program Pauline Russell sang "Our Own United States", accompanied by her mother which was greatly appreciated. After adjournement the hostesses, Della Crane and Laura McElhose, served cherry pie alamode and coffee.

Dennison's had made it possible to achieve a gorgeous effect with little effort. What would our grandmothers think if it were possible for them to see a table gay in patriotic colors with candles, the center piece of small flags and red hatchets for favors.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Goedke entertained Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hahnfeld, of Palatine, and Mrs. Albert Goedke Wednesday evening in honor of their little daughter, Leah Ray's second birthday. Leah Ray had two birthday cakes with candles and received many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Roy Snakenberg of Sigourney, Iowa, spent the week end visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. B. G. Baxter and other Arlington Heights relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bollero spent last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bollero in Morris, Ill.

Mrs. Joseph Podzimek, 307 N. Vail ave., entertained her pinochle club Friday afternoon in celebration of her birthday.

Harry Greinke has been ill for several weeks.

Mrs. C. P. Draper spent last week with relatives in Woodstock.

Judy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orris Neagle, was 2 years old Feb. 1. A cake with 2 candles, ice cream and a merry party marked the event for Judy.

Mrs. H. C. Cleveland and Mrs. George Hughes visited Mrs. S. C. Hodgkins Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Horcher and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schoppman went to Prairie View Sunday to attend the 33rd wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Pfister.

Bundles news

Arlington Heights Bundles for America Unit held an all-day sewing at the Field House Wednesday, January 31. The sewing project is clothes for small children made from new and used material.

Mrs. Thos. Davidson was appointed sewing chairman. The knitting chairman, Mrs. Engelking; Mrs. Orth, layette chairman; Mrs. Ogren, salvage chairman, are continuing as chairmen. Anyone wishing to sew, knit or have salvage please call the chairman in charge of the project you are interested in helping.

At the last meeting cake and ice cream was enjoyed in celebration of Mrs. Ogren's birthday.

Meetings are held every Wednesday at the Field House from 9:30 until 11:30 a. m. All-day sewings are announced at the meetings.

Several new members were welcomed at the last meeting and are urged to continue to attend.

Fire Cause

About 40 fires a day are started because electric irons are left in circuit.

Initiate ladies in VFW auxiliary

The regular meeting and initiation of new members of the Arlington Heights V. F. W. Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening, February 6 at the Village Hall, Arlington Heights.

Department conductress, Christina Lauder, department color bearers, Margaret Hanson, Mildred Ahren, Stella Herman, Sophie Goldstein and assistant department color bearer, Neva Archer of Chicago conducted the floor work. Chaplain Ruth Horcher gave the obligation. New members initiated were Mrs. Celia Saar, Mrs. Edith Helfers, Mrs. Marie Clausing, Mrs. Martin Nebel, Mrs. Betty Levine, Miss Elaine Allison and Mrs. Tillie Hinsberger.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served following the meeting.

Department treasurer Marie Bartlet of Elmwood Park was a special guest.

Mrs. Alfred Gemmill, Arlington Heights, entertained sixteen guests at her home Friday evening at a pink and blue shower in honor of Mrs. Frank Sesterhenn.

A decorative scheme of pink and blue was attractively carried out in decorations and table favors. Mrs. Sesterhenn received many lovely gifts.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Lee Deitz, Wilmette and Mrs. Harold Schillberg, Evanston.

Host to club

Mrs. Donald Goedke, 321 W. Hawthorne st., Arlington Heights, was hostess to The Little Flower Club at a five hundred and Valentine party in her home Thursday evening. Honors were won by Mrs. M. Saar, Mrs. R. Firnbach and Mrs. A. Hinsberger.

Refreshments were served at a table attractively centered with a heart shaped gelatin mold, lighted tapers and decorated with valentines and valentine favors.

Thursday Red Cross unit resumes sewing schedule

Mrs. Willis Hubbard, personnel chairman of Thursday sewing group, of the Red Cross Production Unit of Arlington Heights, announces that the group has started sewing again at top speed every Thursday at the Field House from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. under the direction of Mrs. Harry Ruppel and Mrs. David Jacobs, sewing instructors, and Mrs. Mark Cleaver, knitting chairman.

The group had the pleasure last Thursday of hearing a very excellent report given by Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy who had attended the annual meeting of Red Cross Production Unit leaders at Orchestra Hall. She told where the sewing and knitting were being sent and how greatly this Red Cross sewing is needed and appreciated.

So do come out and help any hour you can on Thursday. Bring your own sandwiches and the day chairmen, Mrs. Albert Goldthwaite, Mrs. Thomas Camp and Mrs. Robert Moock will be glad to provide you with coffee and cake and plenty of sewing. The need is as great as ever so we'll be looking for you next Thursday at the Field House.

Expected home soon

Mrs. Warren P. Schwarz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Karle, 414 S. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, has spent the last three months with her husband, Warren P. Schwarz EM2c, and has enjoyed visiting the cities of Hollywood, Los Angeles, Long Beach, and San Francisco.

She is living now in Oakland, Calif., where her husband has been waiting for his ship, an attack troop transport. The ship was commissioned January 30th and Mrs. Schwarz was able to attend the commissioning ceremonies on board ship.

Since the ship is leaving for a shakedown cruise soon, Mrs. Schwarz intends to be on her way back to Arlington very shortly.

Florence Bourke Ellis at high school Feb. 25

If you haven't already, be sure to encircle February 25 on your calendar. At 8 o'clock that Sunday evening Florence Bourke Ellis, noted book reviewer will appear at the high school. She has not yet divulged what she will review, but Mrs. Ellis has a reputation for keeping her audience enthralled.

The Junior Woman's Club is proud to present her again this year, and tickets are obtainable from any member. They are 50c each, including tax.

Girl scout news

Girl Scout council meeting will be Feb. 12th, at the Field House at eight o'clock.

On Wednesday, February 14, at 8 p. m. at the Field House, Mrs. Richard Lull will help the Girl Scout leaders, Brownie leaders and members of the troop committee with choral speech. Any one in the community interested in the program is invited to attend this meeting.

February 1 was the birthday of troop 3 intermediate Girl Scouts, and was celebrated with a party at the Field House.

Just Around the Corner

Dear Mary:

Here I sit at my cluttered desk trying to decide which few of the twenty-five "mention to Mary's" I can crowd into "Just Around the Corner". You would know, wouldn't you, that true to my helter-skelter nature I do not have a "table-book" but only countless ragged reminders and margin notations. Really I wonder sometimes how my tidy husband puts up with me. I have promised myself to get some loose-leaf paper for my note book today.

Well, here goes—down the discrete list:

Mary, someone advertised an ANTIQUE ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINE in the Herald this week describing it with the boast—still works!

I do hope we manage to see Helen Hayes. I haven't seen her since 'Mary, Queen of Scots" and that was in New York ten years ago.

I like crusaders whether they wield pens or axes (secretly I lean toward the axes and loved Carrie Nation with all my heart). Our friend, Clyde Emrick, insists there are not enough hot-heads in the world and that what we should do when we see injustice is to throw bricks through windows. I was sorely tempted last week to try this method on a nearby movie house where "Murder in the Blue Room" and "They Made Me A Criminal" were playing to Saturday's children. It is the abysmal waste of potentiality in pictures I decry more than the actual harm involved. I have never been able to understand why the success of the really fine children's movies with their appeal to adults too have not redirected programs toward catching up with the advances that children's literature has made in the last two decades. And I think Clyde is right—discussion and keeping our children at home hasn't helped much.

The widespread interest which your friend Edith King's talk of the Federal Aid to Education Bill (now Senate Bill 181 and House Bill 1296) indicates is encouraging. I'd be happy if she could contribute her information and ideas to the meeting we plan to have soon here in Arlington Heights.

I have on my lap (the desk won't hold any more) a copy of the Journal of the National Education Association which contains an article by Elbert D. Thomas, United States Senator from Utah who, with Robert Ramspeck and Lister Hill, are sponsoring the Federal Aid Bill. It is titled "We Oppose Federal Control of Education" and says in part:

"One of the chief arguments which has been advanced against federal aid legislation sponsored by Senator Hill, Congressman Ramspect, and myself is that it would mean federal control of education. There is no foundation for this argument . . . "

"This bill (H. R. 1296) creates no new federal administrative agency. It provides no system of federal patronage. It creates no new federal jobs. The bill is the antithesis of bureaucracy. It sets up no new machinery for school administration. It utilizes the existing, regularly established educational agencies in the states and localities. It channels federal aid through the office of Education without giving any authority whatever to determine state or local educational policy.

"The bill is a bulwark of defense for the principle of state and local control over education. Its enactment will do more to guarantee and perpetuate state and local control over our schools than has been done by any law enacted by the Congress of the United States since the Constitution first went into effect.

"Those of us in Congress who are supporting federal aid are opposed to federal control. Educational leaders thru-out the nation are solidly opposed to federal control. Citizens thruout the United States who have this cause at heart may rest assured that we who are leading this fight will see that no federal control is involved. There will be control only as Congress writes control into the basic legislation now under consideration!"

Mary, with your family of boys what do you and Rob think of a compulsory military training program? I should like to see it changed to a health program beginning in the pre-schools. I feel the money and time should be spent toward preventing and correcting physical defects early in the lives of our youth rather than toward easing those defects when they have already completed their ravages.

I DO have a lot of notes, don't I? Sometimes I wish my mind didn't race around so.

Honey, some day I may get oil paints but really I have our house in enough turmoil with my furniture refinishing and crayons and pencils. I want to come to that helpful little art group of yours though if only to watch.

Did I ever tell you of Big Ken's love of new and unusual words. When he finds one he can add to his vocabulary he is always delighted. Searching for a misplaced bill the other day I came across his definition of serendipitious. Don't you love that, or is it already yours? I had never heard or seen it before. Serendipity means the gift of finding valuable or agreeable things not sought for. Columbus' discovery of America was a serendipitous one as was Nobel's discovery of dynamite. In the same little stack of paper-clipped "shorticles" I found "Twelve Things To Remember". They seem more complete each time I read them: the value of time; the success of perseverance; the pleasure of working; the dignity of simplicity; the worth of character; the power of kindness; the influence of example; the obligation of duty; the wisdom of economy; the virtue of patience; the improvement of talent; the joy of originating.

With love, Elly.

P. S. I rode to Beloit Thursday with Charlete Wild and her Ensign son, Edward, who says he thinks it should be a consecration in any newspaper writer's life to root out hatred and intolerance by any means he can command. That could be a good private post-war plan, couldn't it?

Louise Jeffers weds marine

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roth announce the marriage of their daughter, Louise Jeffers, to Jerald Franklin ter Horst, on Saturday, the twentieth of January, 1945.

Mr. ter Horst is serving as a marine corps reserve. The marriage took place in the Marine Memorial chapel at Quantico, Virginia.

The Ross family lived in Arlington Heights for a number of years and were well known and liked by their neighbors. They were active members of the Presbyterian church and all community betterment projects.

Birthday

Cheryl Rogers, youngest daughter of the Frank L. Rogers, 1432 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, was six years old Thursday; February 1. On Saturday she entertained fifteen of her first grade classmates with a birthday party at her home. Ice cream was served with Cheryl's beautiful birthday cake.

Tom Mess is a patient in the Evanston hospital where he underwent surgery last Thursday.

Tom Kouras, a student at Illinois College is spending this week at home.

Thursday Red Cross unit resumes sewing schedule

Mrs. Willis Hubbard, personnel chairman of Thursday sewing group, of the Red Cross Production Unit of Arlington Heights, announces that the group has started sewing again at top speed every Thursday at the Field House from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. under the direction of Mrs. Harry Ruppel and Mrs. David Jacobs, sewing instructors, and Mrs. Mark Cleaver, knitting chairman.

The group had the pleasure last Thursday of hearing a very excellent report given by Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy who had attended the annual meeting of Red Cross Production Unit leaders at Orchestra Hall. She told where the sewing and knitting were being sent and how greatly this Red Cross sewing is needed and appreciated.

So do come out and help any hour you can on Thursday. Bring your own sandwiches and the day chairmen, Mrs. Albert Goldthwaite, Mrs. Thomas Camp and Mrs. Robert Moock will be glad to provide you with coffee and cake and plenty of sewing. The need is as great as ever so we'll be looking for you next Thursday at the Field House.

Expected home soon

Mrs. Warren P. Schwarz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Karle, 414 S. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, has spent the last three months with her husband, Warren P. Schwarz EM2c, and has enjoyed visiting the cities of Hollywood, Los Angeles, Long Beach, and San Francisco.

She is living now in Oakland, Calif., where her husband has been waiting for his ship, an attack troop transport. The ship was commissioned January 30th and Mrs. Schwarz was able to attend the commissioning ceremonies on board ship.

Since the ship is leaving for a shakedown cruise soon, Mrs. Schwarz intends to be on her way back to Arlington very shortly.

If you haven't already, be sure to encircle February 25 on your calendar. At 8 o'clock that Sunday evening Florence Bourke Ellis, noted book reviewer will appear at the high school. She has not yet divulged what she will review, but Mrs. Ellis has a reputation for keeping her audience enthralled.

The Junior Woman's Club is proud to present her again this year, and tickets are obtainable from any member. They are 50c each, including tax.

Girl scout news

Girl Scout council meeting will be Feb. 12th, at the Field House at eight o'clock.

On Wednesday, February 14, at 8 p. m. at the Field House, Mrs. Richard Lull will help the Girl Scout leaders, Brownie leaders and members of the troop committee with choral speech. Any one in the community interested in the program is invited to attend this meeting.

February 1 was the birthday of troop 3 intermediate Girl Scouts, and was celebrated with a party at the Field House.

Just Around the Corner

Dear Mary:

Here I sit at my cluttered desk trying to decide which few of the twenty-five "mention to Mary's" I can crowd into "Just Around the Corner". You would know, wouldn't you, that true to my helter-skelter nature I do not have a "table-book" but only countless ragged reminders and margin notations. Really I wonder sometimes how my tidy husband puts up with me. I have promised myself to get some loose-leaf paper for my note book today.

Well, here goes—down the discrete list:

Mary, someone advertised an ANTIQUE ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINE in the Herald this week describing it with the boast —still works!

I do hope we manage to see Helen Hayes. I haven't seen her since "Mary, Queen of Scots" and that was in New York ten years ago.

I like crusaders whether they wield pens or axes (secretly I lean toward the axes and loved Carrie Nation with all my heart). Our friend, Clyde Emrick, insists there are not enough hot-heads in the world and that what we should do when we see injustice is to throw bricks through windows. I was sorely tempted last week to try this method on a nearby movie house where "Murder in the Blue Room" and "They Made Me A Criminal" were playing to Saturday's children. It is the abysmal waste of potentiality in pictures I decry more than the actual harm involved. I have never been able to understand why the success of the really fine children's movies with their appeal to adults too have not redirected programs toward catching up with the advances that children's literature has made in the last two decades. And I think Clyde is right—discussion and keeping our children at home hasn't helped much.

The widespread interest which your friend Edith King's talk of the Federal Aid to Education Bill (now Senate Bill 181 and House Bill 1296) indicates is encouraging. I'd be happy if she could contribute her information and ideas to the meeting we plan to have soon here in Arlington Heights.

I have on my lap (the desk won't hold any more) a copy of the Journal of the National Education Association which contains an article by Elbert D. Thomas, United States Senator from Utah who, with Robert Ramspeck and Lister Hill, are sponsoring the Federal Aid Bill. It is titled "We Oppose Federal Control of Education" and says in part:

"One of the chief arguments which has been advanced against federal aid legislation sponsored by Senator Hill, Congressman Ramspect, and myself is that it would mean federal control of education. There is no foundation for this argument . . . "

"This bill (H. R. 1296) creates no new federal administrative agency. It provides no system of federal patronage. It creates no new federal jobs. The bill is the antithesis of bureaucracy. It sets up no new machinery for school administration. It utilizes the existing, regularly established educational agencies in the states and localities. It channels federal aid through the office of Education without giving any authority whatever to determine state or local educational policy.

"The bill is a bulwark of defense for the principle of state and local control over education. Its enactment will do more to guarantee and perpetuate state and local control over our schools than has been done by any law enacted by the Congress of the United States since the Constitution first went into effect.

"Those of us in Congress who are supporting federal aid are opposed to federal control. Educational leaders thru-out the nation are solidly opposed to federal control. Citizens thruout the United States who have this cause at heart may rest assured that we who are leading this fight will see that no federal control is involved. There will be control only as Congress writes control into the basic legislation now under consideration!"

Mary, with your family of boys what do you and Rob think of a compulsory military training program? I should like to see it changed to a health program beginning in the pre-schools. I feel the money and time should be spent toward preventing and correcting physical defects early in the lives of our youth rather than toward easing those defects when they have already completed their ravages.

I DO have a lot of notes, don't I? Sometimes I wish my mind didn't race around so.

Honey, some day I may get oil paints but really I have our house in enough turmoil with my furniture refinishing and crayons and pencils. I want to come to that helpful little art group of yours though if only to watch.

Did I ever tell you of Big Ken's love of new and unusual words. When he finds one he can add to his vocabulary he is always delighted. Searching for a misplaced bill the other day I came across his definition of serendipitious. Don't you love that, or is it already yours? I had never heard or seen it before. Serendipity means the gift of finding valuable or agreeable things not sought for. Columbus' discovery of America was a serendipitous one as was Nobel's discovery of dynamite. In the same little stack of paper-clipped "shorticles" I found "Twelve Things To Remember". They seem more complete each time I read them: the value of time; the success of perseverance; the pleasure of working; the dignity of simplicity; the worth of character; the power of kindness; the influence of example; the obligation of duty; the wisdom of economy; the virtue of patience; the improvement of talent; the joy of originating.

With love, Elly.

P. S. I rode to Beloit Thursday with Charlete Wild and her Ensign son, Edward, who says he thinks it should be a consecration in any newspaper writer's life to root out hatred and intolerance by any means he can command. That could be a good private post-war plan, couldn't it?

Louise Jeffers weds marine

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roth announce the marriage of their daughter, Louise Jeffers, to Jerald Franklin ter Horst, on Saturday, the twentieth of January, 1945.

Mr. ter Horst is serving as a marine corps reserve. The marriage took place in the Marine Memorial chapel at Quantico, Virginia.

The Ross family lived in Arlington Heights for a number of years and were well known and liked by their neighbors. They were active members of the Presbyterian church and all community betterment projects.

Birthday

Cheryl Rogers, youngest daughter of the Frank L. Rogers, 1432 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, was six years old Thursday, February 1. On Saturday she entertained fifteen of her first grade classmates with a birthday party at her home. Ice cream was served with Cheryl's beautiful birthday cake.

Tom Mess is a patient in the Evanston hospital where he underwent surgery last Thursday.

Tom Kouras, a student at Illinois College is spending this week at home.

Production of dairy goods still high

The outlook for milk for 1945 will continue to be tight according to estimates of the agricultural economist, University of Illinois. It is expected that the government will curtail civilian consumption of butter, milk and ice cream. It is expected that requirements of manufactured dairy products may decline in the transition period after the war but in the near future the overall demand for dairy products is expected to exceed available supplies. It is expected that in the urban milk sheds prices may tend to become lower because of increased production and a larger percentage of milk going into manufactured products. It may be that eventually subsidies will be discontinued without making adjustments in price ceilings on dairy products. Subsidies at the present time are payments direct with farmers of 60c a cwt. on milk and 10c a pound on butterfat, in northern Illinois counties. A rollback on butter of 5c a pound to the creamery amounts to 6c a pound on butterfat.

The national goal calls for production of 102 billion pounds compared with a 108 billion during the past two years. The Illinois goal is for 1 percent increase. It is expected that this may be secured through an increase production per cow and not by buying extra cows. Milk cows increased about 2 percent last year and certainly an increase in cows perhaps is not desirable. Dairymen begin to look forward to a discontinuance of the subsidy and with more milk going into products lower returns are inevitable.

Shade-loving plants named for gardeners

Ornamental plants for shady places are not so rare as some people seem to think, and some are among our most attractive flowers, J. R. Kamp, associate in floriculture, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, points out. He named plants which grow very well in shade with a minimum of sunshine.

The columbine, one of the attractive perennials, prefers the sun not more than half the day. Plants grow four feet high and the flowers are large. Seed is sold by individual color, and the white and clear rose pink are extremely attractive, Kamp declares.

Among the perennial phlox, the white variety, Mia Ruys, does very well in shade, according to the floriculturist. All of the plantain lilies are shade lovers. Hosta sieboldiana and Hosta plantaginea grandiflora are large-flowered sorts whose bold foliage masses add a fine contrast to the delicacy of columbines.

The large-flowered forms of clematis are good for trellises in the shade. This is especially true of such delicately colored forms as Ramona and the very large-flowered white, Henreyi.

Kamp says that all these flowers are fine for the north side of a house. Where the shade is caused by trees or shrubs, it must be remembered that there is a shortage of water and nutrients as well as light. Frequent waterings and occasional applications of commercial fertilizers will enable the gardener to grow these shade plants in all localities.

Landscapes farm home

E. R. Post of Post's Hatchery and Farm does not spend all of his time in the chick business. He is a nature lover and he has made the most of the opportunity presented to him at his place near Elgin. Last fall he planted 600 tulips and transplanted 75 large shrubs. He had previously set out 24 large evergreens. The photo appearing herewith gives a little idea of the attractiveness of the home of Mr. Post.

He does not confine his landscaping to his immediate surroundings, but since acquiring his present place he has made the most possible use of existing trees no matter on what part of the farm they may be growing. With 13 large maple trees near his residence set off by a line of thirty maples along the road, the setting is further augmented by the neighbor across the road where there are 200 large trees.

Mr. Post also believes in Victory Gardens. There were eight on his place last year. Of course Mr. Post keeps his buildings and fences in the pink of condition.

'Mom' still the favorite on Valentine's Day

A blessing and a hope for peace will go with each flower valentine this year. The florists report a deep interest in the sentiment of the day and that many of the celebrations will be held next Saturday, judging from their early orders for table flowers and corsages. However, to the soldiers overseas, Wednesday, is still "date night" and their flower orders, in great numbers sent through Army Exchange posts on all the battle fronts, must be delivered early on St. Valentine's day, February 14. Many of these orders from abroad are addressed to mothers and would seem to indicate that Mom is still the dearest girl in the world to the American boy; and most of the time the soldiers have specified red roses or orchids.

In fact, the long-stemmed red roses this year will be, most of them, set aside by the florists for their servicemen's orders. Roses will be shorter in stem than usual and the supply will probably be short, as the bleak weather during January held back the buds growing on the plants in the greenhouses. Otherwise, the usual selection of flower varieties, if not the normal quantities, will be available for St. Valentine's day, according to the Allied Florists' Association.

Production of dairy goods still high

The outlook for milk for 1945 will continue to be tight according to estimates of the agricultural economist, University of Illinois. It is expected that the government will curtail civilian consumption of butter, milk and ice cream. It is expected that requirements of manufactured dairy products may decline in the transition period after the war but in the near future the overall demand for dairy products is expected to exceed available supplies. It is expected that in the urban milk sheds prices may tend to become lower because of increased production and a larger percentage of milk going into manufactured products. It may be that eventually subsidies will be discontinued without making adjustments in price ceilings on dairy products. Subsidies at the present time are payments direct with farmers of 60c a cwt. on milk and 10c a pound on butterfat, in northern Illinois counties. A rollback on butter of 5c a pound to the creamery amounts to 6c a pound on butterfat.

The national goal calls for production of 102 billion pounds compared with a 108 billion during the past two years. The Illinois goal is for 1 percent increase. It is expected that this may be secured through an increase production per cow and not by buying extra cows. Milk cows increased about 2 percent last year and certainly an increase in cows perhaps is not desirable. Dairymen begin to look forward to a discontinuance of the subsidy and with more milk going into products lower returns are inevitable.

Shade-loving plants named for gardeners

Ornamental plants for shady places are not so rare as some people seem to think, and some are among our most attractive flowers, J. R. Kamp, associate in floriculture, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, points out. He named plants which grow very well in shade with a minimum of sunshine.

The columbine, one of the attractive perennials, prefers the sun not more than half the day. Plants grow four feet high and the flowers are large. Seed is sold by individual color, and the white and clear rose pink are extremely attractive, Kamp declares.

Among the perennial phlox, the white variety, Mia Ruys, does very well in shade, according to the floriculturist. All of the plantain lilies are shade lovers. Hosta sieboldiana and Hosta plantaginea grandiflora are large-flowered sorts whose bold foliage masses add a fine contrast to the delicacy of columbines.

The large-flowered forms of clematis are good for trellises in the shade. This is especially true of such delicately colored forms as Ramona and the very large-flowered white, Henreyi.

Kamp says that all these flowers are fine for the north side of a house. Where the shade is caused by trees or shrubs, it must be remembered that there is a shortage of water and nutrients as well as light. Frequent waterings and occasional applications of commercial fertilizers will enable the gardener to grow these shade plants in all localities.

Landscapes farm home

E. R. Post of Post's Hatchery and Farm does not spend all of his time in the chick business. He is a nature lover and he has made the most of the opportunity presented to him at his place near Elgin. Last fall he planted 600 tulips and transplanted 75 large shrubs. He had previously set out 24 large evergreens. The photo appearing herewith gives a little idea of the attractiveness of the home of Mr. Post.

He does not confine his landscaping to his immediate surroundings, but since acquiring his present place he has made the most possible use of existing trees no matter on what part of the farm they may be growing. With 13 large maple trees near his residence set off by a line of thirty maples along the road, the setting is further augmented by the neighbor across the road where there are 200 large trees.

Mr. Post also believes in Victory Gardens. There were eight on his place last year. Of course Mr. Post keeps his buildings and fences in the pink of condition.

'Mom' still the favorite on Valentine's Day

A blessing and a hope for peace will go with each flower valentine this year. The florists report a deep interest in the sentiment of the day and that many of the celebrations will be held next Saturday, judging from their early orders for table flowers and corsages. However, to the soldiers overseas, Wednesday, is still "date night" and their flower orders, in great numbers sent through Army Exchange posts on all the battle fronts, must be delivered early on St. Valentine's day, February 14. Many of these orders from abroad are addressed to mothers and would seem to indicate that Mom is still the dearest girl in the world to the American boy; and most of the time the soldiers have specified red roses or orchids.

In fact, the long-stemmed red roses this year will be, most of them, set aside by the florists for their servicemen's orders. Roses will be shorter in stem than usual and the supply will probably be short, as the bleak weather during January held back the buds growing on the plants in the greenhouses. Otherwise, the usual selection of flower varieties, if not the normal quantities, will be available for St. Valentine's day, according to the Allied Florists' Association.

France

Further word about the wounds of Pfc. Arthur Clem of Arlington Heights was received Monday when a governmest letter stated Art was in a hospital and undergoing a normal recovery. He was wounded in the head.

Art was wounded January 2 in France. His last letter, dated Jan. 18, stated he was still in bed, but was getting along o.k.

3rd division has record of 300 days under fire

Cpl. Matthew Loibl of Wheeling, with the 3rd division in France, has plenty of time put in with the veteran unit. The following release tells of the work of that outfit. Many other local men have been stationed with the 3rd division and the following story tells of much of their army life overseas.

Dough boys of the 3rd Division—originally made up of soldiers of the Pacific coast, especially Washington and Oregon, and since with a large number of replacements from other states—have been the Marathon marchers of the Second World War.

They are "gypsy troops" of the Mediterranean theatre—the only American soldiers who participated in the four campaigns, the Battle for Africa, Sicily, Italy and France.

Since they fought ashore in French Morocco November 8, 1942, they have been in the lines over 300 days. No one who hasn't been under fire himself can begin to understand what that means in terms of human endurance.

It is frightening enough to be under machine-gun, sniper or shell fire for a few minutes. But there are no words to tell the cumulative terror of living in danger day after day, under courage—draining physical hardships of inadequate food, rain, cold, mud and lack of cleanliness.

Some soldiers become indifferent to life or death under such whips of fear and discomfort. They get careless—and many get killed. Only a few men, born to battle, have an iron strength of will and physical constitution—and the luck as well—to stand up month after month under the exactions of front line service.

Doughboys of the first World War remember being pulled out for rests after two or three weeks of fighting in the lines. In this war, such outfits as the Third Infantry Division have had much tougher going.

Wearers of the famous blue-and-white-striped shoulder patch fought 38 straight days in Sicily—from the morning they hit the beaches at Licata until the morning they tramped into Messina to end the campaign victoriously, after winning a race with British tanks to enter the city first.

The men of the 3rd division battled for 58 consecutive days in southern Italy and, after two months rest, returned to spend 65 straight days of hell at Anzio—helping to hold the slender beachhead in one of the greatest epics of this war. And since then, they capped that great record by staying more than 130 days in the line during the long pursuit of Germans through Southern France and the Voges Mountains. At least two other divisions have spent a few more days in the lines than the 3rd Division, but none has equaled its battle performance. The 3rd captured Casablanca in Africa, Palerno and Messina in Sicily and crossed the Volturo in Italy, before spearheading the Anzio breakthrough in the operation that led right into Rome.

In France one of its greatest feats was the ambushing of a column of 2,000 German vehicles 12 miles long at Montelimar last August. When the 3rd Division's artillery guns finished their "serenade" the whole column had been wiped out with 900 Germans dead and 900 prisoners.

That victory was won at small cost. Most great victories aren't however, and the 3rd Division has bought its triumphs with blood.

Normally an American Infantry division has about 15,000 men. Since it went into action, 25,000 men have been passed through the 3rd Division—making a total of 40,000 who have served under its blue and white emblem in two years overseas.

Its heaviest day of loss was May 23, 1944—that historic day when the division broke out of Anzio. By midnight there were 995 casualties. Most, of course, were wounded and a large percentage subsequently returned to duty. Yet it was one of the heaviest—if not the heaviest—tolls suffered by an American division in a single day. But the 3rd Division rushed on to Rome.

After two years of battling, it still is plodding on with the invincible courage of a bull dog along the road to Berlin—and the Germans hate that blue-and-white patch like they fear the retribution which they know is inevitably coming.

Washington D. C.

From Washington, D. C., comes word of Jane Conway of Arlington Heights.

"Am supposed to be typing contracts, but it's a lot more fun typing letters. I mean it would be if the boss, in his navy blue suit with gold braid would sit down and work instead of walking around the room.

"Had cold weather here yesterday and last night it started to snow. I'm going to move when this freeze is over for it looks as if the WAVE barracks will be flooded when the thaw comes. The Potomac is at our door now.

"They are recruiting girls for nurse's aides now, and I signed up. I'll be busy three nights a week which should keep me out of trouble."

Her address is S1c Jane Conway, WAVE Quarters "B", Washington, D. C.

Ward Wente, son of Mrs. May Wente, Palatine, who was in an English hospital four months did not receive a letter from home, the Enterprise or his usual magazine. Letters received told how homesick he was for word from home, but he had given up hopes of receiving any mail until he rejoined his unit. His mother says that when that time comes there will be several hundred letters waiting for him to read as she and her daughter write every day.

After eleven days in the front line, Ward contracted pneumonia. Recovering, he was sent back into the line, only to be again pulled out and has since been in the hospital.

California

Expected home this Saturday on furlough is Augie Penkava of Palatine. Augie has been stationed at Fort Ord, California, but has been given a new station. He will be home a few days on delay en route.

Sgt. Arthur Ward of Deerfield has been at home on a three week furlough. Sgt. Ward has been convalescing from serious injuries received in an accident in New Guinea. He will be hospitalized on the west coast after his furlough.

At sea

From out at sea comes word of Frank Schott of Mt. Prospect.

"We had a big day yesterday when we crossed the equator. There's an old traditional ceremony involved and we got to see it firsthand. The officers were the first to go and they got it a little worse than we did.

"First, we had to crawl by ten fellows with paddles. At the same time a fire hose was spouting at us. We didn't have a speck of clothes on. The water lifted some fellows right off the deck.

"After being revived by King Neptune and the Queen, we had our hair clipped. You ought to see the mess of hair I have. I'll have to have it clipped short. Some have V for victory, while others have circle cuts.

"Then came the chief painter. He took a mixture of flour and dyes, and painted our hair and faces, then dabbed the rest of our body with all colors. Then some of the fellows had to drink tomato juice with hot pepper in it.

"Then came the worst of it. We had to go through all kinds of garbage like fats, meats, coffee grinds, turkey necks and guts. It really stunk, but you could slide right through it. Then more water, and back through again.

"We were lucky compared to the navy and merchant marine. They went into it even worse. One bad thing—I took a little too much sun while running around in my birthday suit.

"We slept on deck again last night but I had a good spot. We slept right under the life rafts. It was plenty hard on the steel floor but we were used to it. At leas I'll be ready to sleep on the ground when the time comes."

Italy

2nd Lt. Ralph E. Hauptly, 22, husband of Mrs. Marilyn Hauptly of 103 S. State rd., Arl. Heights, has arrived overseas and taken up his duties at a 15th AAF B-24 Liberator Bomber base in Italy.

Trained as a pilot of a B-24 bomber, Lt. Hauptly has been assigned to a veteran organization which has flown more than 170 combat missions against vital enemy targets in southern and central Europe. His group is commanded by Col. Thomas W. Steed of Etowah, Tenn.

Lt. Hauptly, who was a student at Northwestern College at the time of his entrance into the cadet corps November 26, 1942, won his wings and commission at Lubbock, Texas, last May.

From Italy comes a short Thank You to the traveling bank at Arlington Heights written by Kenneth Lloyd.

"Thanks to all my friends for putting me up as driver of the traveling bank. It's consoling to know you have friends at home that are thinking of you."

His address is Sgt. Kenneth Lloyd, 36753848, APO 520, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Philippines

Another letter this week from the Philippines comes from Kenneth Wells of Arlington Heights.

"We have been pretty busy out here in the Philippines. Our ship participated in the operation of Lingayen gulf. God brought us through safe and sound.

"Would like to thank all my friends for their part in the traveling bank. The letter came Christmas day and it was quite a surprise.

"Hope the weather isn't too cold at home. Too bad all of you can't spend one day with me and get rid of that ice."

His address is S1c Kenneth Wells, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

From the Philippines comes word of John Rhodes of Arlington Heights.

"Just received the letter stating I was driver of the traveling bank sometime back. It was a big surprise, but a much-appreciated one. It's good to know you have so many friends at home.

"Things are quieting down here, with work getting pretty monotonous. Rumors have it that we may be home the middle of this year. It can't be too soon for me."

Pfc. Willard Ehlers of Wheeling is now somewhere in the Philippines where he says the going has not been too rough so far. Willard says the joy of the liberated people of Europe is more than matched by the joy of the Filipinos, whose welcome was enough to move even a hard boiled G. I. to tears. The natives have been impoverished by their invaders but although their clothes have been reduced to rags they manage to keep clean. Although the country is the best he has seen in the Pacific, Willard says he finds it hard to get used to sleeping in foxholes.

Texas

Aviation Cadet Raymond C. Tagge of Class 44-K, received his wings last week after graduation ceremonies at the Central Flying Training Command Advanced Pilot School, Moore Field, Texas, and has been appointed a flight officer in the Army Air Forces. He is the son of Henry J. Tagge, of RR 1, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Ray arrived home Sunday night. He reports February 13 at Moore Field, Texas.

Bank nets $15

Traveling bank at Arlington Heights last week netted Nicholas Mayer $15, bringing the total to $3,577. This week Maxine Rhodes is driver of the traveling paycar.

France

Further word about the wounds of Pfc. Arthur Clem of Arlington Heights was received Monday when a governmest letter stated Art was in a hospital and undergoing a normal recovery. He was wounded in the head.

Art was wounded January 2 in France. His last letter, dated Jan. 18, stated he was still in bed, but was getting along o.k.

3rd division has record of 300 days under fire

Cpl. Matthew Loibl of Wheeling, with the 3rd division in France, has plenty of time put in with the veteran unit. The following release tells of the work of that outfit. Many other local men have been stationed with the 3rd division and the following story tells of much of their army life overseas.

Dough boys of the 3rd Division—originally made up of soldiers of the Pacific coast, especially Washington and Oregon, and since with a large number of replacements from other states—have been the Marathon marchers of the Second World War.

They are "gypsy troops" of the Mediterranean theatre—the only American soldiers who participated in the four campaigns, the Battle for Africa, Sicily, Italy and France.

Since they fought ashore in French Morocco November 8, 1942, they have been in the lines over 300 days. No one who hasn't been under fire himself can begin to understand what that means in terms of human endurance.

It is frightening enough to be under machine-gun, sniper or shell fire for a few minutes. But there are no words to tell the cumulative terror of living in danger day after day, under courage—draining physical hardships of inadequate food, rain, cold, mud and lack of cleanliness.

Some soldiers become indifferent to life or death under such whips of fear and discomfort. They get careless—and many get killed. Only a few men, born to battle, have an iron strength of will and physical constitution—and the luck as well—to stand up month after month under the exactions of front line service.

Doughboys of the first World War remember being pulled out for rests after two or three weeks of fighting in the lines. In this war, such outfits as the Third Infantry Division have had much tougher going.

Wearers of the famous blue-and-white-striped shoulder patch fought 38 straight days in Sicily—from the morning they hit the beaches at Licata until the morning they tramped into Messina to end the campaign victoriously, after winning a race with British tanks to enter the city first.

The men of the 3rd division battled for 58 consecutive days in southern Italy and, after two months rest, returned to spend 65 straight days of hell at Anzio—helping to hold the slender beachhead in one of the greatest epics of this war. And since then, they capped that great record by staying more than 130 days in the line during the long pursuit of Germans through Southern France and the Voges Mountains. At least two other divisions have spent a few more days in the lines than the 3rd Division, but none has equaled its battle performance. The 3rd captured Casablanca in Africa, Palerno and Messina in Sicily and crossed the Volturo in Italy, before spearheading the Anzio breakthrough in the operation that led right into Rome.

In France one of its greatest feats was the ambushing of a column of 2,000 German vehicles 12 miles long at Montelimar last August. When the 3rd Division's artillery guns finished their "serenade" the whole column had been wiped out with 900 Germans dead and 900 prisoners.

That victory was won at small cost. Most great victories aren't however, and the 3rd Division has bought its triumphs with blood.

Normally an American Infantry division has about 15,000 men. Since it went into action, 25,000 men have been passed through the 3rd Division—making a total of 40,000 who have served under its blue and white emblem in two years overseas.

Its heaviest day of loss was May 23, 1944—that historic day when the division broke out of Anzio. By midnight there were 995 casualties. Most, of course, were wounded and a large percentage subsequently returned to duty. Yet it was one of the heaviest—if not the heaviest—tolls suffered by an American division in a single day. But the 3rd Division rushed on to Rome.

After two years of battling, it still is plodding on with the invincible courage of a bull dog along the road to Berlin—and the Germans hate that blue-and-white patch like they fear the retribution which they know is inevitably coming.

Washington D. C.

From Washington, D. C., comes word of Jane Conway of Arlington Heights.

"Am supposed to be typing contracts, but it's a lot more fun typing letters. I mean it would be if the boss, in his navy blue suit with gold braid would sit down and work instead of walking around the room.

"Had cold weather here yesterday and last night it started to snow. I'm going to move when this freeze is over for it looks as if the WAVE barracks will be flooded when the thaw comes. The Potomac is at our door now.

"They are recruiting girls for nurse's aides now, and I signed up. I'll be busy three nights a week which should keep me out of trouble."

Her address is S1c Jane Conway, WAVE Quarters "B", Washington, D. C.

Ward Wente, son of Mrs. May Wente, Palatine, who was in an English hospital four months did not receive a letter from home, the Enterprise or his usual magazine. Letters received told how homesick he was for word from home, but he had given up hopes of receiving any mail until he rejoined his unit. His mother says that when that time comes there will be several hundred letters waiting for him to read as she and her daughter write every day.

After eleven days in the front line, Ward contracted pneumonia. Recovering, he was sent back into the line, only to be again pulled out and has since been in the hospital.

California

Expected home this Saturday on furlough is Augie Penkava of Palatine. Augie has been stationed at Fort Ord, California, but has been given a new station. He will be home a few days on delay en route.

Sgt. Arthur Ward of Deerfield has been at home on a three week furlough. Sgt. Ward has been convalescing from serious injuries received in an accident in New Guinea. He will be hospitalized on the west coast after his furlough.

At sea

From out at sea comes word of Frank Schott of Mt. Prospect.

"We had a big day yesterday when we crossed the equator. There's an old traditional ceremony involved and we got to see it first-hand. The officers were the first to go and they got it a little worse than we did.

"First, we had to crawl by ten fellows with paddles. At the same time a fire hose was spouting at us. We didn't have a speck of clothes on. The water lifted some fellows right off the deck.

"After being revived by King Neptune and the Queen, we had our hair clipped. You ought to see the mess of hair I have. I'll have to have it clipped short. Some have V for victory, while others have circle cuts.

"Then came the chief painter. He took a mixture of flour and dyes, and painted our hair and faces, then dabbed the rest of our body with all colors. Then some of the fellows had to drink tomato juice with hot pepper in it.

"Then came the worst of it. We had to go through all kinds of garbage like fats, meats, coffee grinds, turkey necks and guts. It really stunk, but you could slide right through it. Then more water, and back through again.

"We were lucky compared to the navy and merchant marine. They went into it even worse. One bad thing—I took a little too much sun while running around in my birthday suit.

"We slept on deck again last night but I had a good spot. We slept right under the life rafts. It was plenty hard on the steel floor but we were used to it. At leas I'll be ready to sleep on the ground when the time comes."

Italy

2nd Lt. Ralph E. Hauptly, 22, husband of Mrs. Marilyn Hauptly of 103 S. State rd., Arl. Heights, has arrived overseas and taken up his duties at a 15th AAF B-24 Liberator Bomber base in Italy.

Trained as a pilot of a B-24 bomber, Lt. Hauptly has been assigned to a veteran organization which has flown more than 170 combat missions against vital enemy targets in southern and central Europe. His group is commanded by Col. Thomas W. Steed of Etowah, Tenn.

Lt. Hauptly, who was a student at Northwestern College at the time of his entrance into the cadet corps November 26, 1942, won his wings and commission at Lubbock, Texas, last May.

From Italy comes a short Thank You to the traveling bank at Arlington Heights written by Kenneth Lloyd.

"Thanks to all my friends for putting me up as driver of the traveling bank. It's consoling to know you have friends at home that are thinking of you."

His address is Sgt. Kenneth Lloyd, 36753848, APO 520, c-o PM, New York, N. Y.

Philippines

Another letter this week from the Philippines comes from Kenneth Wells of Arlington Heights.

"We have been pretty busy out here in the Philippines. Our ship participated in the operation of Lingayen gulf. God brought us through safe and sound.

"Would like to thank all my friends for their part in the traveling bank. The letter came Christmas day and it was quite a surprise.

"Hope the weather isn't too cold at home. Too bad all of you can't spend one day with me and get rid of that ice."

His address is S1c Kenneth Wells, c-o FPO, San Francisco, Calif.

From the Philippines comes word of John Rhodes of Arlington Heights.

"Just received the letter stating I was driver of the traveling bank sometime back. It was a big surprise, but a much-appreciated one. It's good to know you have so many friends at home.

"Things are quieting down here, with work getting pretty monotonous. Rumors have it that we may be home the middle of this year. It can't be too soon for me."

Pfc. Willard Ehlers of Wheeling is now somewhere in the Philippines where he says the going has not been too rough so far. Willard says the joy of the liberated people of Europe is more than matched by the joy of the Filipinos, whose welcome was enough to move even a hard boiled G. I. to tears. The natives have been impoverished by their invaders but although their clothes have been reduced to rags they manage to keep clean. Although the country is the best he has seen in the Pacific, Willard says he finds it hard to get used to sleeping in foxholes.

Texas

Aviation Cadet Raymond C. Tagge of Class 44-K, received his wings last week after graduation ceremonies at the Central Flying Training Command Advanced Pilot School, Moore Field, Texas, and has been appointed a flight officer in the Army Air Forces. He is the son of Henry J. Tagge, of RR 1, Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Ray arrived home Sunday night. He reports February 13 at Moore Field, Texas.

Bank nets $15

Traveling bank at Arlington Heights last week netted Nicholas Mayer $15, bringing the total to $3,577. This week Maxine Rhodes is driver of the traveling paycar.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. Mc ELROY

The way we look at it this is championship week-end coming up. Number one game of the week is the Ela at Bensenville fracas. Both boast 7-1 records in the Northwest league and Friday's winner has the title just about sewed up, for both teams play second division clubs at home the next and closing week of the season. The Bisons rate the edge playing at home, but we are inclined to pick Ela anyway. Probably be just another of many picks we have made that flopped, but we think that defeat at the hands of Barrington will arouse Wesner's Ela five to a top form game. They have had things much too easy since Christmas.

Barrington can clinch second undisputed title

In the lightweight division Barrington can clinch undisputed lightweight honors at home to Antioch Friday. It will be Barrington's second straight title. However Antioch may upset the Ponies if they turn in an exhibition like last week when they really trounced Bensenville. If they do Palatine could still gain a tie with Barrington by beating them a week hence. It is hardly possible that Barrington would lose two in a row however after taking eight straight league victories so Palatine's chances are pretty dim.

Big Northeast game—Crystal Lake at Niles

Number one game in the Northeast is at Niles where a lot can be done to decide the championship in both divisions. Our dope calls for Crystal Lake's lightweights to whip Niles 9-1 and let Arlington 8-1 slip into undisputed championship. Coach Joyner's Arlington Tornadoes have second division Warren, Libertyville, and Woodstock remaining who should all be tounced by at least 10 points. Even if Niles should win Friday they still have Leyden's strong team to trim to keep pace with Arlington for a tie. It looks rosy for Arlington if their juniors do not get overconfident.

N. E. league could finish in three way tie

Niles is one of the few teams which might topple Crystal Lake's varsity from the top position they gained recently at the expense of Arlington. The Trojans are a mighty tough ball team right now as Arlington discovered. If the Lakers get by this week their only tough remaining opponent will be Libertyville in the season's finale. Arlington still has to play Libertyville and the race could end in a three way tie if some one whipped Coach Njaa's Crystal Lakers.

Mumps hit Wauconda

An epidemic of mumps hit Wauconda last week closing the school and causing the postponment of their league games at Northbrook. They will play the games Tuesday, February 13. Just haw badly the mumps hit the Wauconda teams will not be known until Palatine plays there Friday night.

Arlington-Palatine game should be sell-out

Saturday night Arlington should have one of the biggest crowds of the year, and that takes in the Crystal Lake game, when Palatine travels to Heights in an effort to regain the sleighbells trophy. Judging by comparable performances this season Arlington should retain the trophy for the Pirates have not shown a first class game since they lost that Arlington overtime while the Cards during the past 10 days have come out of a slump and are going at a fast pace again. Evidence of this is the record against Barrington, Leyden, and the Alumni in the last three contests. However you never can tell in Palatine-Arlington games.

Alumni games prove nothing

As far as Alumni games go they never prove that the present team is better than any past team for it gives no real comparison. However seeing the Arlington-Alumni game Saturday night for one half we were more than ever convinced that Arlington has the best basketball team the school has turned out in 10 years. That is just an opinion and there is no way to prove it of course. We think that three of Arlington's better players in that span of time performed for the Alumni Saturday in Harth, Millay, and Peeters. This trio was in excellent form for Alumni. This present Arlington team is a group of real competitors. We think this is their strongest asset.

Arlington is becoming basketball minded

Imagine Arlington grade school boys practicing basket shooting on outdoor baskets in near zero weather. That is becoming a common sight around Arlington and means that Arlington is fast becoming a basketball community. The Dads Club grade school leagues are building up a lot of interest and a lot of fundamental basketball in Arlington Heights youngsters. The real payoff will come in about four years. The fine teams Arlington High has put out this year are coming at just the right time to bring about a cage revival in the town. Next year's prospects appear just as bright and Arlington can have first division teams every year in their league if the present set up of basketball for all from seventh grade through the senior year is continued as it has been set up this year. Chief credit for the grade school planning certainly goes to Harry Robinson who successfully promoted the idea last year and is doing even more this year. We have noticed in the Seidler-Joyner basketball coaching set up in the high school real cooperation so badly needed on a coaching staff. All in all Arlington cage fans should be optimistic.

Palatine future looks brighter

At Palatine prospects for another year appear much brighter for there are four varsity lettermen who do not graduate and these boys have been looking much better than the senior members of the squad in recent games. The lightweights of another year will include quite a number of the present squad so both teams will have a goodly supply of veteran material. Coach Stutzman's grade school basketball class which meets Wednesday evenings and Saturday afternoons is bound to produce some material for future teams. It is hoped that Palatine is ready for another rise to the top of the league after two years of non-champions.

Ehard gets 20 baskets in three games

Hottest thing we have seen on a basketball court in some time is Hank Ehard of Arlington the past three games. He has tossed in some 20 field goals in the last three contests. Long shots, hook shots, running shots, set shots, it makes little difference to Ehard. They all go in for Hank. Seidler hopes he keeps up that pace through this coming Saturday night.

Bisons can set league record

If Coach Meneguin's Bensenville Bisons beat Ela Friday and win the cage championship they will have done something that no Northwest team has accomplished, win three championships in three major sports in a row. Last spring Trapp's track team won the title, and this fall Meneguin's gridders finished on top. It is three varsity trophies within a year if the Bisons made up of Schoppe, Ernsting, Neuman, Webb and Rands can come through against Ela.

One for the books

When Waukegan defeated Evanston in basketball last Friday 5-3 it provided one of the most unusual contests ever played in this area. There was no score until the final five minutes of the game, if you could call it that, for Waukegan held the ball all that time without attempting to score. The reason was that Evanston who had beaten the Bulldogs in their first meeting played a tight zone defense with three men covering Waukegan's star center Allen, second high scorer of the Suburban League.

Evanston refused to come out of their zone and force Waukegan to play until almost the middle of the last quarter. Meanwhile guards Shea and Puchin of Waukegan played catch in mid court. At the very end of the game with the score tied at three all Waukegan salled until there were five seconds to play. Then Puchin tried a long shot but it missed. However he caught the rebound and shot again. The ball was in the air when the game ended but dropped through for the winning points.

Evanston took only four shots at the basket in the entire game and did not hit. Waukegan made two out of six. Waukegan's strategy worked but what a game for the fans to watch. That kind of basketball could soon ruin the game for the spectators but it was quite a novelty in these days of high scoring.

Bensenville came from behind to trim Antioch 45-32 and maintain a tie with Ela for the league championship. In a closely contested game on the Antioch floor the Bisons led 14-12 at the quarter and 19-18 at the half but fell behind 29-27 in the third period. In the final period the Bisons really began to click. They shut off Antioch with three points and went on a rampage to score 18 points themselves.

Bensenville's scoring was well distributed with Webb getting 12, Ernsting 11, and Schoppe and Neuman 10 apiece. Capt. Nielsen of Antioch was their high man with 12 points. Basket shooting on both sides was unusual. Webb hit five long shots in the first half. The rest of the team was really dead eye in the last quarter. Again the Bisons took a heavy toll at the free throw line getting 13 points in this manner as Antioch fouled 20 times.

Antioch's lightweights proved to be the smoothest passing outfit and certainly the most accurate shooting that Bensenville had engaged this year. The score at the half was 22-6 and the junior Bisons were never in the ball game. Osenbaugh of Antioch clicked for 17 points and Kraft scored 11. Vuglar got eight points for Bensenville. The Bisons had four field goals, nine out of 16 free throws and five fouls while Antioch scored 18 from the field, three out of five at the free throw line and committed 17 fouls.

Barrington gives Ela first defeat

Barrington spoiled Ela's hopes for an undefeated season and possibly for championship by beating the Bears on their own court 26-24. It was Ela's first defeat in the last 18 conference games.

Stopping Norman Ladd, the Ela scoring leader, was the key to beating Ela and Ralph Gaulke, Barrington center, got the assignment. Ladd played guard, forward, and center at different times in the game but Gaulke stayed with him. Both Ladd and Gaulke scored nine points and Ladd went out on fouls with three minutes to go.

Ela led 9-7 at the quarter. Barrington was on top 16-15 at the half and 20-19 at the three quarter mark. Both teams sank 10 free thows but Barrington made eight field goals to Ela's seven. Flock and Gaulke had nine points apiece for the Bronchos. Ladd scored nine and H. Grever eight for Ela.

Scrappy Arlington '5' topples Leyden, 40-19

Arlington's scrappy Cardinals continued along the comeback trail by toppling a tough Leyden cage squad by a score of 40-19, last Friday night on the Franklin Park court. By this win, the Cards served notice that they have overcome their midseason slump, and at the same time maintained their challenging position in the Northeast Conference title race.

By dint of much hard labor the Green Tornadoes eked out a 30 to 28 victory over a much improved Leyden Junior five. Although Leyden has lost three games in conference competition, they have lost to the conference leaders only and by not more than two or three points in any game. Lax guarding on the part of two Arlington boys in the second quarter left the Tornadoes on the short end of a 15 to 10 score at the half time.

To start the second half the Arlington boys started a pressing defense which upset Leyden's well executed pivot plays. At the same time their offense gained back the five points lost in the second quarter. The three-quarter mark found the game tied up at 19 each.

In the fourth period, with two minutes to go and the score still tied, George Busse sank a well aimed swisher from the middle of the floor and Marvin Kamps followed it up with a rebound shot that put the Tornadoes four points to the good. After considerable stalling Matusek of Leyden dropped in a long one just as the closing buzzer sounded.

Bill Wille's accurate shooting was responsible for half of the Tornadoes points. More accurate in free throw shooting by the entire team would have helped considerably.

Palatine cops both games at Grant

Varsity wins, 25-21; lights score easily, 38-8

Palatine won both games at Grant Friday night. The lightleights had an easy time winning 38-8 while the varsity came from behind in the second half to cop a close 25-21 decision.

Grant took an 8-6 lead in the opening quarter which they increased to 17-12 at the half. Thompson, Winkle, and Klaus were hitting in good form for Grant while the boys who usually score the most for Palatine could not find the range. Birks, Kinsch and Smith each got two baskets in the first half and Birks and Smith hit again in the second half as did Hapke and Toppel to move the Pirates into a 20-18 lead in the third quarter. Palatine held Grant to one point in the third period and a total of one basket and two free throws for the entire last half. Smith and Birks with seven points were high scorers of the game.

With Gustafson leading the attack with 17 points on seven baskets and three free throws Palatine's lights had a 27-1 lead at the half which they increased to 35-3 starting the final eight minutes. Then a team of substitutes finished the game and were outscored in the remaining eight minutes. Howes and Kolze did not play with the lightweights, being moved to the varsity for Friday's game because of the weak lightweight opposition.

Friday's results gave the Palatine lights six victories in eight league games and the varsity five out of eight. Palatine has two league games remaining. Friday they play at Wauconda and a week hence close the season at home against Barrington.

Beat Palatine frosh-sophs, 34?25

Arlington won two more basketball games Saturday night by outpointing the Alumni 45-28 and beating the Palatine frosh-soph 34-25. Speed, ball handling, and exceptional shooting gave the Cards a decisive victory over a good Alumni team which had in its lineup several of the best boys to perform at Arlington in the past five years.

Led by the fast breaks and clever shooting of Ehard and Page the Cards raced to a 19-14 first quarter lead and then as the graduates started to tire, moved the margin to 30-19 at the half. Coach Hayes of the Alumni and Seidler of the high school used numerous substitutes but the latter had a big edge in reserve power. On offense the Alumni looked good but they could not come close to stopping the fast passing and quick breaking of the high school team.

Hank Ehard who has been setting a torrid scoring pace of late, pumped in seven field goals, most of which were scored in the first half when the Cards were really red hot in their shooting. Page was right behind with 12 points and Botterman had six and Stroker seven. Millay, Peeters and Harth were outstanding for the Alumni. This trio played fine ball as leaders of Arlington teams coached by Ray Hayes who handled them again Saturday night.

Frosh-sophs beat Palatine

Cashing in on free throws Palatine led Arlington's frosh-sophs throughout the first three quarters of their preliminary game but fell 34-25 before the last quarter fast break tactics of the Arlington team, which counted half its points in the last eight minutes. Palatine got 15 points on free throws and Kolze and LeBaron together scored 22 points for the visiting team. Kleiner was high for Arlington with 15 and Magnus scored seven. Arlington's fouling which gave Palatine 30 free throw opportunities kept them in the hole most of the way but long passes and fast breaks caused Palatine's defense to fall apart in the final six minutes and the game became a rout.

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. McELROY

The way we look at it this is championship week-end coming up. Number one game of the week is the Ela at Bensenville fracas. Both boast 7-1 records in the Northwest league and Friday's winner has the title just about sewed up, for both teams play second division clubs at home the next and closing week of the season. The Bisons rate the edge playing at home, but we are inclined to pick Ela anyway. Probably be just another of many picks we have made that flopped, but we think that defeat at the hands of Barrington will arouse Wesner's Ela five to a top form game. They have had things much too easy since Christmas.

Barrington can clinch second undisputed title

In the lightweight division Barrington can clinch undisputed lightweight honors at home to Antioch Friday. It will be Barrington's second straight title. However Antioch may upset the Ponies if they turn in an exhibition like last week when they really trounced Bensenville. If they do Palatine could still gain a tie with Barrington by beating them a week hence. It is hardly possible that Barrington would lose two in a row however after taking eight straight league victories so Palatine's chances are pretty dim.

Big Northeast game—Crystal Lake at Niles

Number one game in the Northeast is at Niles where a lot can be done to decide the championship in both divisions. Our dope calls for Crystal Lake's lightweights to whip Niles 9-1 and let Arlington 8-1 slip into undisputed championship. Coach Joyner's Arlington Tornadoes have second division Warren, Libertyville, and Woodstock remaining who should all be tounced by at least 10 points. Even if Niles should win Friday they still have Leyden's strong team to trim to keep pace with Arlington for a tie. It looks rosy for Arlington if their juniors do not get overconfident.

N. E. league could finish in three way tie

Niles is one of the few teams which might topple Crystal Lake's varsity from the top position they gained recently at the expense of Arlington. The Trojans are a mighty tough ball team right now as Arlington discovered. If the Lakers get by this week their only tough remaining opponent will be Libertyville in the season's finale. Arlington still has to play Libertyville and the race could end in a three way tie if some one whipped Coach Njaa's Crystal Lakers.

Mumps hit Wauconda

An epidemic of mumps hit Wauconda last week closing the school and causing the postponment of their league games at Northbrook. They will play the games Tuesday, February 13. Just haw badly the mumps hit the Wauconda teams will not be known until Palatine plays there Friday night.

Arlington-Palatine game should be sell-out

Saturday night Arlington should have one of the biggest crowds of the year, and that takes in the Crystal Lake game, when Palatine travels to Heights in an effort to regain the sleighbells trophy. Judging by comparable performances this season Arlington should retain the trophy for the Pirates have not shown a first class game since they lost that Arlington overtime while the Cards during the past 10 days have come out of a slump and are going at a fast pace again. Evidence of this is the record against Barrington, Leyden, and the Alumni in the last three contests. However you never can tell in Palatine-Arlington games.

Alumni games prove nothing

As far as Alumni games go they never prove that the present team is better than any past team for it gives no real comparison. However seeing the Arlington-Alumni game Saturday night for one half we were more than ever convinced that Arlington has the best basketball team the school has turned out in 10 years. That is just an opinion and there is no way to prove it of course. We think that three of Arlington's better players in that span of time performed for the Alumni Saturday in Harth, Millay, and Peeters. This trio was in excellent form for Alumni. This present Arlington team is a group of real competitors. We think this is their strongest asset.

Arlington is becoming basketball minded

Imagine Arlington grade school boys practicing basket shooting on outdoor baskets in near zero weather. That is becoming a common sight around Arlington and means that Arlington is fast becoming a basketball community. The Dads Club grade school leagues are building up a lot of interest and a lot of fundamentai basketball in Arlington Heights youngsters. The real payoff will come in about four years. The fine teams Arlington High has put out this year are coming at just the right time to bring about a cage revival in the town. Next year's prospects appear just as bright and Arlington can have first division teams every year in their league if the present set up of basketball for all from seventh grade through the senior year is continued as it has been set up this year. Chief credit for the grade school planning certainly goes to Harry Robinson who successfully promoted the idea last year and is doing even more this year. We have noticed in the Seidler-Joyner basketball coaching set up in the high school real cooperation so badly needed on a coaching staff. All in all Arlington cage fans should be optimistic.

Palatine future looks brighter

At Palatine prospects for another year appear much brighter for there are four varsity lettermen who do not graduate and these boys have been looking much better than the senior members of the squad in recent games. The lightweights of another year will include quite a number of the present squad so both teams will have a goodly supply of veteran material. Coach Stutzman's grade school basketball class which meets Wednesday evenings and Saturday afternoons is bound to produce some material for future teams. It is hoped that Palatine is ready for another rise to the top of the league after two years of non-champions.

Ehard gets 20 baskets in three games

Hottest thing we have seen on a basketball court in some time is Hank Ehard of Arlington the past three games. He has tossed in some 20 field goals in the last three contests. Long shots, hook shots, running shots, set shots, it makes little difference to Ehard. They all go in for Hank. Seidler hopes he keeps up that pace through this coming Saturday night.

Bisons can set league record

If Coach Meneguin's Bensenville Bisons beat Ela Friday and win the cage championship they will have done something that no Northwest team has accomplished, win three championships in three major sports in a row. Last spring Trapp's track team won the title, and this fall Meneguin's gridders finished on top. It is three varsity trophies within a year if the Bisons made up of Schoppe, Ernsting, Neuman, Webb and Rands can come through against Ela.

One for the books

When Waukegan defeated Evanston in basketball last Friday 5-3 it provided one of the most unusual contests ever played in this area. There was no score until the final five minutes of the game, if you could call it that, for Waukegan held the ball all that time without attempting to score. The reason was that Evanston who had beaten the Bulldogs in their first meeting played a tight zone defense with three men covering Waukegan's star center Allen, second high scorer of the Suburban League.

Evanston refused to come out of their zone and force Waukegan to play until almost the middle of the last quarter. Meanwhile guards Shea and Puchin of Waukegan played catch in mid court. At the very end of the game with the score tied at three all Waukegan salled until there were five seconds to play. Then Puchin tried a long shot but it missed. However he caught the rebound and shot again. The ball was in the air when the game ended but dropped through for the winning points.

Evanston took only four shots at the basket in the entire game and did not hit. Waukegan made two out of six. Waukegan's strategy worked but what a game for the fans to watch. That kind of basketball could soon ruin the game for the spectators but it was quite a novelty in these days of high scoring.

Bensenville ties for lead

Bensenville came from behind to trim Antioch 45-32 and maintain a tie with Ela for the league championship. In a closely contested game on the Antioch floor the Bisons led 14-12 at the quarter and 19-18 at the half but fell behind 29-27 in the third period. In the final period the Bisons really began to click. They shut off Antioch with three points and went on a rampage to score 18 points themselves.

Bensenville's scoring was well distributed with Webb getting 12, Ernsting 11, and Schoppe and Neuman 10 apiece. Capt. Nielsen of Antioch was their high man with 12 points. Basket shooting on both sides was unusual. Webb hit five long shots in the first half. The rest of the team was really dead eye in the last quarter. Again the Bisons took a heavy toll at the free throw line getting 13 points in this manner as Antioch fouled 20 times.

Antioch's lightweights proved to be the smoothest passing outfit and certainly the most accurate shooting that Bensenville had engaged this year. The score at the half was 22-6 and the junior Bisons were never in the ball game. Osenbaugh of Antioch clicked for 17 points and Kraft scored 11. Vuglar got eight points for Bensenville. The Bisons had four field goals, nine out of 16 free throws and five fouls while Antioch scored 18 from the field, three out of five at the free throw line and committed 17 fouls.

Palatine cops both games at Grant

Varsity wins, 25-21; lights score easily, 38-8

Palatine won both games at Grant Friday night. The lightleights had an easy time winning 38-8 while the varsity came from behind in the second half to cop a close 25-21 decision.

Grant took an 8-6 lead in the opening quarter which they increased to 17-12 at the half. Thompson, Winkle, and Klaus were hitting in good form for Grant while the boys who usually score the most for Palatine could not find the range. Birks, Kinsch and Smith each got two baskets in the first half and Birks and Smith hit again in the second half as did Hapke and Toppel to move the Pirates into a 20-18 lead in the third quarter. Palatine held Grant to one point in the third period and a total of one basket and two free throws for the entire last half. Smith and Birks with seven points were high scorers of the game.

With Gustafson leading the attack with 17 points on seven baskets and three free throws Palatine's lights had a 27-1 lead at the half which they increased to 35-3 starting the final eight minutes. Then a team of substitutes finished the game and were outscored in the remaining eight minutes. Howes and Kolze did not play with the lightweights, being moved to the varsity for Friday's game because of the weak lightweight opposition.

Friday's results gave the Palatine lights six victories in eight league games and the varsity five out of eight. Palatine has two league games remaining. Friday they play at Wauconda and a week hence close the season at home against Barrington.

Arlington trims its alumni five, 45-28

Beat Palatine frosh-sophs, 34?25

Arlington won two more basketball games Saturday night by outpointing the Alumni 45-28 and beating the Palatine frosh-soph 34-25. Speed, ball handling, and exceptional shooting gave the Cards a decisive victory over a good Alumni team which had in its lineup several of the best boys to perform at Arlington in the past five years.

Led by the fast breaks and clever shooting of Ehard and Page the Cards raced to a 19-14 first quarter lead and then as the graduates started to tire, moved the margin to 30-19 at the half. Coach Hayes of the Alumni and Seidler of the high school used numerous substitutes but the latter had a big edge in reserve power. On offense the Alumni looked good but they could not come close to stopping the fast passing and quick breaking of the high school team.

Hank Ehard who has been setting a torrid scoring pace of late, pumped in seven field goals, most of which were scored in the first half when the Cards were really red hot in their shooting. Page was right behind with 12 points and Botterman had six and Stroker seven. Millay, Peeters and Harth were outstanding for the Alumni. This trio played fine ball as leaders of Arlington teams coached by Ray Hayes who handled them again Saturday night.

Frosh-sophs beat Palatine

Cashing in on free throws Palatine led Arlington's frosh-sophs throughout the first three quarters of their preliminary game but fell 34-25 before the last quarter fast break tactics of the Arlington team, which counted half its points in the last eight minutes. Palatine got 15 points on free throws and Kolze and LeBaron together scored 22 points for the visiting team. Kleiner was high for Arlington with 15 and Magnus scored seven. Arlington's fouling which gave Palatine 30 free throw opportunities kept them in the hole most of the way but long passes and fast breaks caused Palatine's defense to fall apart in the final six minutes and the game became a rout.

Barrington gives Ela first defeat

Barrington spoiled Ela's hopes for an undefeated season and possibly for championship by beating the Bears on their own court 26-24. It was Ela's first defeat in the last 18 conference games.

Stopping Norman Ladd, the Ela scoring leader, was the key to beating Ela and Ralph Gaulke, Barrington center, got the assignment. Ladd played guard, forward, and center at different times in the game but Gaulke stayed with him. Both Ladd and Gaulke scored nine points and Ladd went out on fouls with three minutes to go.

Ela led 9-7 at the quarter. Barrington was on top 16-15 at the half and 20-19 at the three quarter mark. Both teams sank 10 free thows but Barrington made eight field goals to Ela's seven. Flock and Gaulke had nine points apiece for the Bronchos. Ladd scored nine and H. Grever eight for Ela.

Scrappy Arlington '5' topples Leyden, 40-19

Cards stay on comeback trail

Arlington's scrappy Cardinals continued along the comeback trail by toppling a tough Leyden cage squad by a score of 40-19, last Friday night on the Franklin Park court. By this win, the Cards served notice that they have overcome their midseason slump, and at the same time maintained their challenging position in the Northeast Conference title race.

The Cards bearded the lion in his den in this instance, because Leyden is a notoriously hard team to beat on its home floor. Ehard was outstanding for Arlington with his scrappy floor play. Charley Page led the scoring with 10 points, followed by Robertson of Leyden who garnered 9 points.

Tornadoes win close one, 30-28

By dint of much hard labor the Green Tornadoes eked out a 30 to 28 victory over a much improved Leyden Junior five. Although Leyden has lost three games in conference competition, they have lost to the conference leaders only and by not more than two or three points in any game. Lax guarding on the part of two Arlington boys in the second quarter left the Tornadoes on the short end of a 15 to 10 score at the half time.

To start the second half the Arlington boys started a pressing defense which upset Leyden's well executed pivot plays. At the same time their offense gained back the five points lost in the second quarter. The three-quarter mark found the game tied up at 19 each.

In the fourth period, with two minutes to go and the score still tied, George Busse sank a well aimed swisher from the middle of the floor and Marvin Kamps followed it up with a rebound shot that put the Tornadoes four points to the good. After considerable stalling Matusek of Leyden dropped in a long one just as the closing buzzer sounded.

Bill Wille's accurate shooting was responsible for half of the Tornadoes points. More accurate free throw shooting by the entire team would have helped considerably.

Memorial service for Bud Callow this Sunday

Memorial services will be held this Sunday for Pfc. William "Bud" Callow, formerly of Bensenville, who was killed in action October 16, 1944. Bud was the son of Mrs. Margaret Callow, 166 Larch ave., Elmhurst. Services will be held at 4 o'clock Sunday at St. Peter's church, Church st. and Cottage Hill ave., Elmhurst.

Pfc. Callow had been manning a machine gun in an attack against enemy positions in northern Italy. He was struck and instantly killed by shell fragments from enemy artillery.

Bud was first reported missing, but later investigation revealed his death. The company chaplain wrote Mrs. Callow, stating that Pfc. Callow had been buried in a military cemetery in northern Italy. Appropriate field services were held.

Pfc. Callow was awarded the Purple Heart posthumously for military merit and for wounds received in action. The award was received by his mother two weeks ago.

Bud entered the army December 28, 1942, and was awarded the Purple Heart just one day short of two years later, December 27, 1944.

Kansas

Lt. Burgess Field of Palatine was home for a few days recently. Part of his furlough was spent with friends in Palm Beach, Fla., where he did deep sea fishing. He caught a sail fish.

England

Second Lieutenant Elwin A. Kruse, 21, Wheeling, recently entered the aerial offensive against the Reich when he participated in the Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress bombing attack on Mainz's vital marshalling yards which have been a center of supply to the German armies in Western Europe. He is stationed at an Eighth Air Force Bomber Station in England.

Lt. Kruse, Fortress navigator with the 385th Bombardment Group, commanded by Colonel George Y. Jumper, Natoma, California, flies with the formations of the famed Third Air Division, the division cited by the President for its now historic England-Africa shuttle bombing of the Messerschmitt aircraft factories at Regensburg, Germany, in August, 1943.

The airman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kruse, Milwaukee ave., Wheeling. A graduate of Highland Park High School, Lt. Kruse was a student at Georgia Military College before his entry into the Army in January, 1943. He won his navigator's wings in July, 1944, at Selman Field, La.

It Happened Here

The Barrows

Poor huddled sheep, lost in the hills,
Your frozen coats the cold wind fills,
Making a coverlet fair and white,
One never worn before tonight,
Winding sheets for each huddled one,
Out of the cloud's self wrought and spun.
Poor huddle sheep, white barrows seen
Under the starlight's hostile sheen,
Only the Shepherd, Himself, will know
Which are your barrows, which hillocks of snow.

Our Mr. Toobush, watch and clock repair man is driven nearly beside himself these days. With more timepieces out of kilter than his shop can accommodate, and customers begging "Can I have my watch tomorrow?" "If I have no alarm clock, how can I get to work on time?" What is time? Is time rationed, so many points for an extra five minutes of grace before the alarm rings? How many for ten minutes more with him before his train or his ship leaves? . . . "So your watch loses five minutes," says Mr. Toobush. "Well, what it needs is a shot of Vitamin B. There was a man in here the other day with a large bottle of vitamin pills, one for every human ailment, I'd guess, and he kept swallowing them. I asked him if he ever tried to raise plants in vigorol alone. Pah!"

English girl's Lament

From England this week comes word of Harry Smart of Arlington Heights.

"Just a short line from Sunny (?) Devon letting you know I'm still over here holding down the fort. Enclosed is a little epilogue

I procured that should be quite amusing to the boys, especially anyone that's been over here for a while. That's all, keep the Herald coming."

The English Girl's Lament

Dear old England's not the same,
We dreaded invasion, but well it came,
The Yankee army's came.
You see them in the train and bus,
There is no room for both of us,
We stand to let them have our seats
Then get run over by their jeeps.
They moan about our luke warm beer,
Think beer is like water over here,
But after drinking two or more,
You find them lying on the floor.
And you should see them at a dance,
They get a partner and start to prance,
When you're half dead and they stop and smile,
"How about that, Honey Chile?"
You should see them try to jitterbug,
They twist and turn and pull and hug,
It's enough to make any man jealous,
Yet Yanks are civilized so they tell us.
Yankee officers cause us smiles,
With light colored pants you can see them for miles,
We wonder if they are mice or men,
And decide they are wolves so avoid the den.
With admiration we would stare,
At all the ribbons that they wear
And think of deeds so bold and daring
That won the ribbons they are wearing.
Alas they have not fought the hun,
No glorious battles have they won,
That pretty ribbon just denotes,
They crossed the sea—brave men (in boats).
We speak to them they just look hazy,
They think we're nuts we think they're crazy.
Yet they are our allies, we must be nice,
They love us—Yes, like cats love mice.
They laugh at us for drinking tea,
Yet a funnier sight you'll never see,
Than a gum chewing Yank, with dumb looking face,
He'd cause a laugh in any place.
They say that they can shoot and fight,
They fight—oh yes—when they are tight
And I must admit they shoot up fine,
They sure can shoot a darn good line.
They tell you you've got teeth like pearls,
They love your hair and the way it curls,
Your eyes would dim the brightest star,
You're competition for Miss Lamour.
You are their life their love their all,
And for no other would they fall.
They love you dear till death do part,
If you leave you break their heart,
Then leave you broken hearted,
Their camp has moved your love departed.
You wait for mail that doesn't come,
Then you realize you're awful dumb,
It's a different town, a different place,
It's a different girl, a different face,
I love you darling, please be mine,
The same old Yank, the same old line.

'Chicken every Sunday' at Blackstone theater

"Chicken Every Sunday", the boisterous comedy of unconventional family life which the topnotch film scenarists, Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein, made from Rosemary Taylor's best seller of the same name, is the new tenant in the Blackstone Theatre in Chicago.

"Chicken Every Sunday" came to Chicago after what has been aptly described as "a full laughing year in New York." Judging from its reception by the audiences at the Blackstone it is proving itself as big a gloom chaser and rib buster in this territory as it was in the East.

"Chicken Every Sunday" has been found to be livelier than "Life With Father" and more riotous than "You Can't Take It With You."

Rosemary Taylor's book from which the comedy was adapted early jumped into a top place among the best sellers. Its sales long since passed beyond the 500,000 mark.

The Epstein comedy also was an immediate hit.

On its Chicago premiere Claudia Cassidy of The Tribune found in "Chicken Every Sunday", "something for everyone." Lloyd Lewis of The News summed up his first night reaction in the terse declaration that "Another mad household is at the Blackstone." William Leonard of the staid Journal of Commerce called "Chicken Every Sunday"—"A rollicking laugh provoker, well mounted, directed and acted."

Edward Gross, who sponsors "Chicken Every Sunday," has given the comedy a large cast of expert players. In the featured roles are Sidney Blackmer and Lois Wilson. Both these players have long been big favorites with patrons of the theatre and the screen.

There are performances of "Chicken Every Sunday" at the Blackstone Theatre every night, including Sunday, at 8:30. The only matinees are on Saturday and Sunday at 2:30.

Cleaning Rug

Perhaps you can use a broom or go in for the hard way—beating. You should clean a rug in the direction of the nap, and when you have finished, brush the nap lightly to make it lie smoothly in one direction. If a broom is used, choose one with soft bristles. And, if you are one of those homemakers who feels that a rug is not really clean unless it has been beaten, don't give it all you have. Lay the rug face down, beat gently to loosen the dirt, and then brush it.

February 15 deadline for '44 AAA reports

Only one more week remains for farmers to report the 1944 practices carried out under the AAA program and sign the farm plans. Farmers in the county have been sent notices of this DEADLINE date.

A closing date of February 15, 1945, has been established for completing all farm reports for 1944. All farmers, who have not already done so, should call at the AAA office in Arlington Heights before that date and make a complete report for all production practices carried out on their farm in 1944 in order to be eligible for payment.

If a farmer has made a partial report it must be complete by February 15th in order to receive payment for 1944.

Although the deadline has been set for February 15th, clover seed analysis reports can be submitted to the county office after this date providing the sample was submitted to the State Seed Laboratory before February 15th.

The State Seed Laboratory has a large number of clover seed samples on hand to analyze, and it will be two or three months before they can finish the work.

Do not forget to make your report before February 15th.

Trials show dairy cow needs access to water

In addition to the water consumed as moisture in the feed, a dairy cow should have from 3½ to 5½ pounds of water for each pound of milk produced, according to Mr. Yapp of the U. of I. This large requirement for water, especially for the heavy producing cow, indicates how essential it is that milk cows have ready access to it.

Experimental evidence by the U. S. Department of Agriculture reveals that when a cow has water available to drink at all times, she will, on the average, drink 10 times a day. When she has opportunity to drink but twice a day, with the water at the same temperature there is a reduction of 2.8 per cent in yield of milk compared to having continuous access. At the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station under like conditions, a difference of 3½ per cent was reported.

Present atmospheric conditions suggest the importance of warming drinking water for milk cows. Consideration of this practice by the dairyman is encouraged as one means of getting animals to drink sufficient quantities of water to satisfy their requirements during a high level of production.

Various types of water heaters using coal, oil or electricity have given satisfactory results. A water temperature of about 60-70 degrees F. is suggested as most desirable during cold winter days.

Suggest ways to ease alfalfa seed shortage

Three suggestions to help ease the serious shortage of alfalfa seed stocks were given Illinois farmers this week by R. F. Fuelleman, assistant professor of crop production, University of Illinois College of Agriculture:

1. Red, mammoth, alsike or sweet clover could be substituted for alfalfa if possible.
2. The situation will be eased if a mixture containing an increased proportion of other clovers can be used.
3. If the intentions are to seed brome-alfalfa seed this spring and a supply is not available, seeding should be postponed until next fall. By that time the situation may be improved.

In southern Illinois where lespedeza can be used this spring, it can be seeded as a stop-gap until more alfalfa is available. Lespedeza seed is both abundant and relatively low in price.

Red, mammoth and alsike clover make good hay, especially if mixed with some timothy or bromegrass, and they are also good for pasture and green manure.

Bromegrass goes well with red or sweet clover, or both, and can be handled much the same as a timothy and red clover mixture. Sufficient supplies of red and mammoth clover are available, but sweet and alsike clover seeds are short. Sweet clover is much in demand, and some difficulty will be experienced in meeting the demand.

Production of alfalfa seed this year was about ten per cent less than in 1943 and 10-12 per cent smaller than the ten-year average 1933-1942. Alfalfa seed needs have increased during recent years. Decreases this year are largely attributable to a smaller yield per acre, which has offset a slightly larger acreage harvested this year.

"During the past three years the United States and Canada have been running so close to the bottom of the seed barrel that it is dangerous," Fuelleman declared. "A partial crop failure of alfalfa, with the small carry-over during these years, could be disastrous. The situation suggests that everything possible be done to stretch alfalfa seed supplies."

Propose soil tests to determine fertility

An inventory of soil fertility as a means of estimating how much of the various fertilizers will be needed for the highest yields in 1945 was proposed this week by R. H. Bray, professor of soil fertility, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Soil tests will reveal the amount of plant food nutrients in the soil, which can be measured as easily as a grocer counts the number of cans on his shelves for his annual inventory.

"When fertilizers are used in the proper amounts, they not only produce the expected increases, but also build up the supplies of the available nutrients," Bray added. "The fertilizer not taken up by the plant is neither lost by leaching nor fixed in the soil in unavailable forms. Instead it builds up the available supplies of phosporous and potassium in the soil."

As the available plant food supplies increase, the amount of fertilizer needed for maximum yields decreases. Eventually, only sufficient fertilizers will need to be added to compensate for any lowering of the supplies by crop removal.

For example, a soil sample was found to test 90 pounds in potassium. This inventory value has been found to be insufficient; in fact, it can produce only 75 per cent of a corn yield. With an average of 60 bushels of corn on this field, information shows that the yearly use of 75 pounds of muriate of potash fertilizer will increase the yield to approximately 80 bushels, or a 20-bushel increase. Similar information can be obtained for phosphate.

Bray advises that soil tests or inventories should be taken every four to eight years so that the farmer can determine how much the available supplies have been increased and can reduce the amount of fertilizer that is added each year.

"The Cook County Farm Bureau is putting in a laboratory to give this service to farmers," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

Jan., Feb., March next period for feed payments

"Farmers, save your evidence for January, February, and March, 1945 dairy production and sales," warns W. A. Hinz, Acting Chairman of the Cook county AAA committee. "Evidence for this period should be submitted with a single application for dairy feed payment within 60 days after the period ends."

Mr. Hinz explained that 1945 goals call for increased dairy production, and that farmers will need all the help they can get to meet dairy requirements.

"The dairy Feed Program is designed to help farmers produce more milk by giving them a more favorable feed ratio."

The dairy feed payment rates for Cook county for the January-February-March period are 60 cents per hundredweight of whole milk, and 10 cents per pound of butterfat.

The county AAA office will accept applications and evidence for dairy production and sales during the January-February-March period beginning April 1, 1945. The final date for submitting applications for this period is May 31, 1945.

"February 28, 1945, is the final date on which the county AAA office can accept applications and evidence and make dairy feed payments for the November, December, 1944 period," Mr. Hinz added. He asked farmers to make sure that evidence and applications for November-December production and sales had been submitted before the closing date for this period.

May certify names of Mexican labor for recruiting

"A new regulation with reference to recruiting Mexicans from Texas has been announced," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "Farmers who have names and addresses of Mexicans whom they know and wish to bring up by recruitment in Texas may file names and addresses with the Extension Service here. They will be cleared in the Extension Service office in Texas and may be recruited without license or fine.

"Suggest farmers who wish to have these recruited file these names with me or with Mr. Elmer Steil at this or the Vegetable Growers Office or with Mr. Glover at Blue Island. These names should be in by February 10 if possible. We will send such names and addresses along with the farmer's name and address February 10. Later ones will be sent in as they come in.

"This does not refer to farmers who send tickets or money to Mexicans to come up. They are always at liberty to do so."

Need 92,000 farm workers in Illinois

It will take 4,000,000 people here on the home front to volunteer for farm jobs if our fighting men, our hungry allies and our own population here in the U. S. are to be fed this year.

In making this stement today, P. E. Johnston, state farm labor supervisor, said: "There have been 1,200,000 U. S. farmers, farm boys and other farm workers called to the armed services since 1940, and 2,500,000 farm men and farm women have gone into permanent industrial jobs during that period."

The state farm labor office estimates that 92,000 workers not now engaged in agriculture will be needed to plant, cultivate and harvest the 1945 crop in Illinois.

Farm wage rates are now the highest on record for Illinois, and the number of available farm workers has dropped to the lowest point in history, Johnston stated. "It can thus be seen," he added, "that, while Illinois farmers faced what seemed an almost insurmountable problem last year in securing proper help, the outlook for 1945 is even less bright. Favorable weather this past fall greatly eased the farm labor problem, and on the other side of the picture bad weather during critical crop periods can further greatly complicate it."

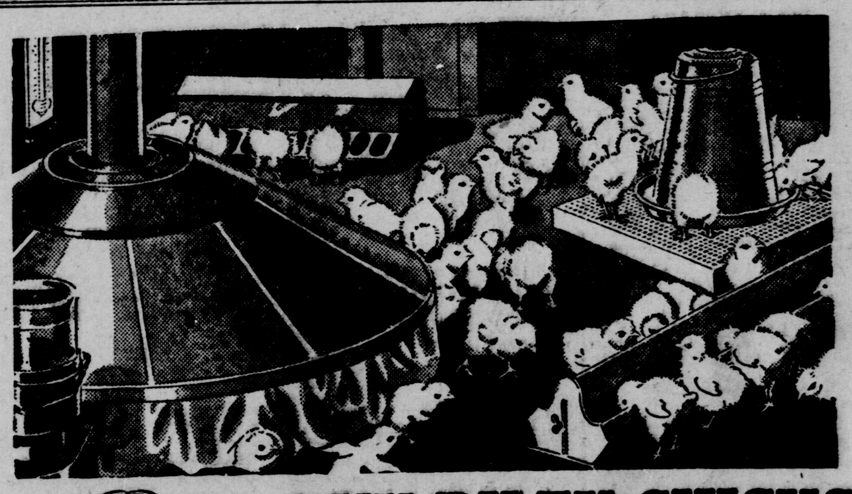

Johnston also mentioned that in 1944 Illinois farmers harvested the largest crop in 25 years despite the handicaps mentioned. He gave the credit to sharing of machinery and labor by farmers and the help given by volunteer women and girls and boys of high school age, and stated that his office placed more than 84,000 workers during the year.

"Even if the war should end tomorrow, the need will be critical through the 1945 crop season," he added.

February 15 deadline for '44 AAA reports

Only one more week remains for farmers to report the 1944 practices carried out under the AAA program and sign the farm plans. Farmers in the county have been sent notices of this DEADLINE date.

3. If the intentions are to seed brome-alfalfa seed this spring and a supply is not available, seeding should be postponed until next fall. By that time the situation may be improved.

Propose soil tests to determine fertility

An inventory of soil fertility as a means of estimating how much of the various fertilizers will be needed for the highest yields in 1945 was proposed this week by R. H. Bray, professor of soil fertility, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Soil tests will reveal the amount of plant food nutrients in the soil, which can be measured as easily as a grocer counts the number of cans on his shelves for his annual inventory.

"When fertilizers are used in the proper amounts, they not only produce the expected increases, but also build up the supplies of the available nutrients," Bray added. "The fertilizer not taken up by the plant is neither lost by leaching nor fixed in the soil in unavailable forms. Instead it builds up the available supplies of phosporous and potassium in the soil."

As the available plant food supplies increase, the amount of fertilizer needed for maximum yields decreases. Eventually, only sufficient fertilizers will need to be added to compensate for any lowering of the supplies by crop removal.

For example, a soil sample was found to test 90 pounds in potassium. This inventory value has been found to be insufficient; in fact, it can produce only 75 per cent of a corn yield. With an average of 60 bushels of corn on this field, information shows that the yearly use of 75 pounds of muriate of potash fertilizer will increase the yield to approximately 80 bushels, or a 20-bushel increase. Similar information can be obtained for phosphate.

Bray advises that soil tests or inventories should be taken every four to eight years so that the farmer can determine how much the available supplies have been increased and can reduce the amount of fertilizer that is added each year.

"The Cook County Farm Bureau is putting in a laboratory to give this service to farmers," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

Jan., Feb., March next period for feed payments

"Farmers, save your evidence for January, February, and March, 1945 dairy production and sales," warns W. A. Hinz, Acting Chairman of the Cook county AAA committee. "Evidence for this period should be submitted with a single application for dairy feed payment within 60 days after the period ends."

Mr. Hinz explained that 1945 goals call for increased dairy production, and that farmers will need all the help they can get to meet dairy requirements.

"The dairy Feed Program is designed to help farmers produce more milk by giving them a more favorable feed ratio."

The dairy feed payment rates for Cook county for the January-February-March period are 60 cents per hundredweight of whole milk, and 10 cents per pound of butterfat.

The county AAA office will accept applications and evidence for dairy production and sales during the January-February-March period beginning April 1, 1945. The final date for submitting applications for this period is May 31, 1945.

"February 28, 1945, is the final date on which the county AAA office can accept applications and evidence and make dairy feed payments for the November, December, 1944 period," Mr. Hinz added. He asked farmers to make sure that evidence and applications for November-December production and sales had been submitted before the closing date for this period.

May certify names of Mexican labor for recruiting

"A new regulation with reference to recruiting Mexicans from Texas has been announced," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes. "Farmers who have names and addresses of Mexicans whom they know and wish to bring up by recruitment in Texas may file names and addresses with the Extension Service here. They will be cleared in the Extension Service office in Texas and may be recruited without license or fine.

"Suggest farmers who wish to have these recruited file these names with me or with Mr. Elmer Steil at this or the Vegetable Growers Office or with Mr. Glover at Blue Island. These names should be in by February 10 if possible. We will send such names and addresses along with the farmer's name and address February 10. Later ones will be sent in as they come in.

"This does not refer to farmers who send tickets or money to Mexicans to come up. They are always at liberty to do so."

Need 92,000 farm workers in Illinois

It will take 4,000,000 people here on the home front to volunteer for farm jobs if our fighting men, our hungry allies and our own population here in the U. S. are to be fed this year.

In making this stement today, P. E. Johnston, state farm labor supervisor, said: "There have been 1,200,000 U. S. farmers, farm boys and other farm workers called to the armed services since 1940, and 2,500,000 farm men and farm women have gone into permanent industrial jobs during that period."

The state farm labor office estimates that 92,000 workers not now engaged in agriculture will be needed to plant, cultivate and harvest the 1945 crop in Illinois.

Farm wage rates are now the highest on record for Illinois, and the number of available farm workers has dropped to the lowest point in history, Johnston stated. "It can thus be seen," he added, "that, while Illinois farmers faced what seemed an almost insurmountable problem last year in securing proper help, the outlook for 1945 is even less bright. Favorable weather this past fall greatly eased the farm labor problem, and on the other side of the picture bad weather during critical crop periods can further greatly complicate it."

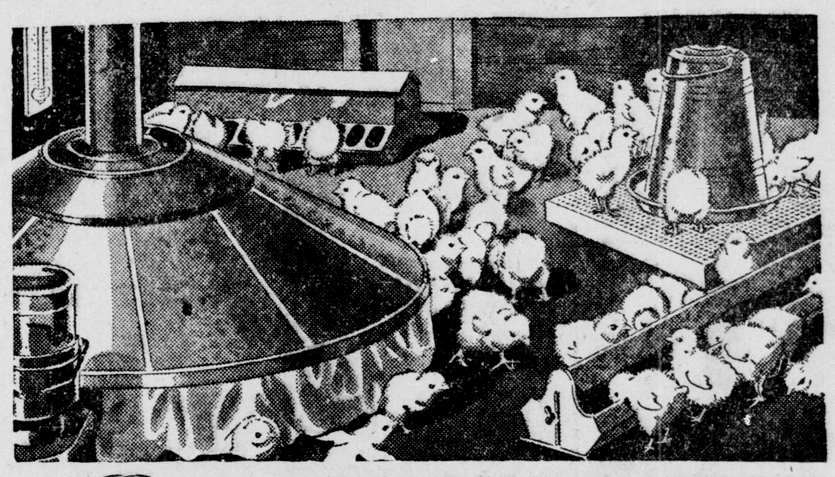

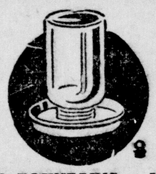

Johnston also mentioned that in 1944 Illinois farmers harvested the largest crop in 25 years despite the handicaps mentioned. He gave the credit to sharing of machinery and labor by farmers and the help given by volunteer women and girls and boys of high school age, and stated that his office placed more than 84,000 workers during the year.

"Even if the war should end tomorrow, the need will be critical through the 1945 crop season," he added.

Virginia

Y1c Kenneth M. Norby, who is stationed at Camp Peary, Williamsburg, Va., was home last week on leave and on Thursday visited with his parents, the Christian Norbys, Marion ave., Prospect Heights. Accompanying him were his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Browning, also of Williamsburg.

S2c Elmer Kirchhoff of Mt. Prospect is in the hospital at Norfolk, Va., with the measles.

Mississippi

From Camp Shelby, Mississippi, comes word of Emmett Doyle of Arlington Heights.

"I was transferred about two weeks ago and at the time of my arrival was assigned to the 601st MP Bn., for duty in giving a course in investigations after taking a 6 weeks basic training. After being there for about a week my records showed that I had the training and I was transferred to the Detachment Corps of Military Police where I resumed my same type work as Special Investigator.

"As a member of the Armed Forces and also a member of the Military Police, I feel it my job to always help the soldier out as much as I can and during my experience as a Military Police Investigator I have found it hard at time and vice versa. Here at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, the camp is very large in size but at the present time it dosen't have very many soldiers stationed here.

"The closest town near Camp Shelby is Hattiesburg, and is 12 miles from the camp. Buses run every 15 or 20 minutes and it's very easy to get to town as there are not so many soldiers. The town of Hattiesburg, Miss., has about 40,000 people.

"Last Friday night the Special Service held a dance in the huge field house for the President's Birthday Ball. There was a great turn out and yet they had about 3 girls to every GI on the dance floor. That is not what I am used to seeing. At Camp Stewart, Ga., I found it 3 GI's to every girl. I didn't get a chance to see how the girls in Mississippi dance as yet as I have been pulling night duty this week and makes it hard to get to the dances. They have about 3 dances a week on the post and there are about 10 or more Service Clubs. Last week Monday I was able to get to see a U.S.O. show on the post.

"I am looking forward to the 14th of February when Kay Kyser and his Kollege of Musical Knowledge is going to be here to entertain the post, and also broadcast his regular Wednesday evening broadcast. For a good time be sure and listen to Kay Kyser that night.

"At this time I want to thank the Legion Auxiliary who made it possible for me to receive the Palatine Enterprise weekly. I get it every week and enjoy it very much. I want to thank you for the great task that has been fulfilled in making my morale and that of many other Palatine boys so high, in order that they might receive the local paper and see the news from other fellow soldiers."

His address is Pfc. Emmett J. Doyle, Det. Corps of Military Police, Camp Shelby, Miss.

New York

Richard Cerwinski of East Maine who recently joined the Merchant Marine and left January 24, is now stationed at Brooklyn, New York, according to word received by his folks.

Pacific

All we know of the whereabouts of the bearded gentleman, Bill Gleason of Palatine, is that he is somewhere in the Pacific aboard ship.

"Everything is o.k. at present out here. Haven't heard from anyone in a long time, as we don't receive first class mail very often. Also, we don't expect to get much in the future. Just got some papers in, including early September issues.

"Received my Xmas package yesterday and enjoyed it. Got some white socks that will come in handy. plus a package of fresh nuts. I don't need the shaving cream as you can see."

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bartsch of Palatine.

Serving with the first marine division in the Pacific is Olaf Andersen of Palatine. He reports that it's hot out there, with temperatures ranging over 100 most of the time. He was shot in the leg some time back but is reported to be o.k. now.

Wisconsin

Joe Staudenbaur of Mt. Prospect left Wednesday morning for his new station at Truax field, Wisconsin. He was home 15 days after completing his training at Lubbock, Texas. His address is Pvt. Joseph Staudenbaur, 3508 AAF BU Truax Field, Wis.

Dear Dollink —

From Brunswick, Georgia, comes word from Ens. Harold Dombrow, husband of the former Madeline Malcolm of Palatine. Their address is 3602 Brentley ave., Brunswick, Georgia.

"I hev just finisht rubbing my back with Slone's Linamunt (kwite a Jimnastic feet—rubbing one's own back) and the thawt uccured tew me that I coud rite tew yew So I am. That is a simpul statement of fakt—nothing more and nuthing less.

"Perhaps yew are wundering wy I rubbed my back, sew I will tell yew. It is a long story, butt I will shorten it as I go ulong becawse as I go along, I will getting neerur the end and as I get neerur the end, it will natchurally get shortur. As yew no, wee live in a house, and becawse it is custumary in these Yewnited States, we have a piddlin' peece of grownd sewerrounding the fower walls. I don't suppose yew wood be interested in noing that the grownd is nintee pur cent sand, so I will shorten the story by not ttelling yew that. It reely duzn't matter or have eny berring on the storey sew the fakt that I doughn't menshun it woen't harm.

"I doughn't no wether oar knot it is allsew custumairy to have pigs and kows running arownd the piddlin' peece of grownd sewerounding the fower walls but we have 'em. Now I dough't objekt tew thair running arownd becawse I figger cum summer and my grass which I intend sew cum up, the kows and pigs can graize and saive me the job of cuttin' the lawn. Allsew, it's mytee cunveeniunt having meet on the hoof in tha yard when we are low on red points.

"However we've found out that kows and pigs are simalure tew hueman being byowelogically, in that wut goes intew 'em, must kum out—and Maddy objecks to having that witch kums ou uddorn tha yard. Pursunully, I think that it adds a surtain amount of distinkshun tew the yard, but Maddy sez it only adds stink and not "di" or "shun." In spite of the fakt that the kows and pigs wood save us the pryce of a lawn mower, Maddy sez hey hav got to be fensd out. Even wen I told hur that with wut we'd saive on the lawn mower we cud by a Extra War Bond. She remaynd furm in hur deesizion to hav a fense.

"So fineually talked hur intew letting me bild a privy on the sowth side of the yard fur the kows and pigs, figgering that they cood graize and then wen they had tew go they cood run over tew the privy—but, even tho I paintud it purty and put up a sine on it reading "Fur Pigs and Kows Ownly" they ignored it and Maddy sez the fense must go up. Having walloped my thum cunsidurable in bilding the privy, "I wuz in no mood tew bild the fense, sew I got a houn' dog tew chaz the kows and pigs off the proputee, but the durn thing thing was tew lazy tew chaz 'em. As a matter of fakt, the ownly time the critter wood muve was wen the naybor's femail dog went out fur a stroll—and then he'd stroll with hur. I finelly got rid of thet pooch and got unoother witch wood chase the kows and pigs but they would just wate until the femail dog was let out, becuz the new dog allsew strolled with hur, and wen he was gone they'd cum in and graize. I cofinzed Maddy that if they wur that smart, they'd be smart enuf to get threw a fense if I bilt wun, so she said I woodn't hav to bild a fense. I shood hav known thair'd be sum ketch in it, and now I am very seriusly considering bilding the fense, becuz she makes me go out with a shuvvel and kleen up after the kows and pigs—and that is W my back wuz rubbed with Slone's Linument becawse its hard work.

"Down heer in Jawrja it is useless tew dreem of a wite Christmas sew I am dreeming of a green fourth of Jewlye. Can't yew jest vizulize my nice green lawn with kows and pigs graizing Maddy hanging clowes on the line; the nayborhood kids playing in the front yard, and me inside the howse wondering wy the blinkety blank I ever planted the grass wen thair ain't no room for me on it? Of course, the kows will probubbly be very contented after all the graizing and maybe I kan sell 'em to the Carnation Milk Company—and make more millyuns!

"Insudentally — don't let any wise guy ttalk yew intew bying a book writ by a feller name of Daniel Webster It's got more than atey pur cent of the words misspelt—at leest thair was no similarity tew the way I spell, and I must no moren he does becuz I'm married and he's some kind of a Batchelor (it says so aftur his naim), and on top of that it don't hav no pikchurs in ut. The naim of the book is "Dickshunairy"—so watch out for it.

"Last nite we had strawberry jello for supper and it tasted purty good until I noticed that Maddy's finger nail polish was almost all chipped off—then I lost my appetite."

From Capitol Hill

Wilkins News Letter No. 11.

Published occasionally and reporting in great detail just how one S. J. Wilkins is winning the war.

"It's a gray day in Washington. At intervals since yesterday morning a fine mist has been falling that freezes as soon as it touches the ground. As a result the immediate universe is an ice palace, very beautiful but not good. The roads are skating rinks, that is until one gets to a highway where the buses keep it cut up pretty well. Our place stands on a hill and going down the road turns and runs along the edge of a ravine, with the inevitable creek at the bottom.

"This morning I slid down this hill with the ignition off, the car in low gear and the brake full on. For a few seconds it was touch and go whether we made the turn or went on straight down to the creek, but at length the rear end 'gee'd' around the right way and we made it. Unless things change much before nightfall I will have to chip about one-fourth inch of ice off the windshield and I know I can never make it up the hill. These sleet storms are so frequent an occurrence that a razor blade device as well as a box of salt are standard equipment for all cars. Some of the drivers even go so far as to cover their entire cars with tarpaulins when they park in the morning. Of course this type of weather might be less objectionable than the below-zero stuff you've been having, but I'm not sure.

But we do have our lighter moments. At the present time the foremost of these is a game called 'Stand in Line'. This embraces most everything you do or wish to do from breakfast time on. Standing in line for cigarettes is probably the most popular pastime in town. There are cigarette vending machines in all corridors and the minute a service man appears to load a machine the line forms. They all have large notices posted on the front requesting customers to take only one pack but you notice while standing in line —and pretty far back because you didn't get there a little sooner— that those at the head of the line are taking five or six packs. This makes you very angry, especially because it always happens there are fewer than six packs left by the time your turn comes.

"Then there is the line at Walgreens. They have set up special counters and 'In' and 'Out' lines, on the concourse. They sell only cigarettes and two packs per customer. This goes on between 11 and 2 each day they have any stock and while the lines, six in all, are long they move pretty fast. Most days they have one or two of the popular brands, but usually the less popular sellers prevail.

"Then, while it isn't actually 'standing' the business of getting any gasoline for your car is about the same thing. There has been a terrific shortage the last ten days or so and most of the stations have large signs in the driveways 'No Gas'. When a station does get some gas the line immediately starts forming and very often will extend two or three blocks. A favorite device is to follow a loaded truck to the station he is headed for and thus get in a good position. Between our place and the Pentagon there are usually a half dozen cars pulled off the road, apparently out of gas. The station at ort Meyer sells gas to military personnel in uniform and I have been able to keep supplied there without too much difficulty but it is very uncertain how long this source will be available. Have also been able to get cigarettes—one carton per week—at the commissary. They have made up regular ration cards for cigarettes and when you buy your carton for the week the card is punched. So far they seem to have a good supply, but I'm afraid the situation is going to get worse long before it gets any better.

"In addition to the foregoing you stand in line at the movies, in all stores and always in restaurants. To a minor degree one also enjoys (?) this sport at postoffices or the Pentagon bank.

"And then to go from the ridiculous to the sublime. I played poker last Saturday night with some other officers. Real honest-to-goodness poker GI style, stud or draw poker only, nothing wild and the blue ones a quarter. Quite a novel experience and the first time I've played in two years or so. Here's one thing the New Deal hasn't gotten to. Three treys still beat any two pair, as I learned to my sorrow and a steady diminution of the blue chips.

"VITAL STATISTICS: The Wilkins spent a very nice albeit quiet Christmas. Your cards were very nice and we are grateful for having been remembered. New Years Eve we went to an early party as all of us had to work New Years Day. Stayed up only long enough to hear the New Year welcomed in at the Hotel Sherman.

"WILKINS FORECAST: The Cubs to cop the pennant, if any.

Hasta Luego,

Stan."

His address is Major S. J. Wilkins, 1025 S. Dinwiddie st., Arlington, Va.

Evanston

From Northwestern university comes word of Ray Benson of Bensenville.

"Imagine my surprise when I had finished reading the newspaper and then discovered that it wasn't mine. It was addressed to Bob McArdle of Roselle. To top that off he's been living in the same barracks with me for 3 months. Since we'll both be here for quite some time cancel the paper sent to me, and I'll read Bob's copy. We've become great friends since the paper episode. However, when we do separate, I'd be very happy if I could continue to receive the news from home. You can't realize how much they are appreciated. I'll let you know when either Bob or myself have left here."

His address is Ray Benson, A/S, House 14, Evanston, Ill.

New Hebrides

Discharged

Ensign Grayle W. Howlett Jr., of 501 E. Euclid street, Arlington Heights, has received an honorable discharge from the United States Naval Reserve.

Howlett, sports editor of Radio Station WGN before his enlistmen and the first secretary of the Arlington Heights Dad's Club, was commissioned by the Navy in November, 1943. He received his indoctrination at Ft. Schuyler, N. Y., and advance training in destroyers at Norfolk, Va. and Philadelphia.

Ordered to sea duty last summer, Howlett served as a communications officer aboard a destroyer in the South Pacific until sent to the United States Naval Hospital at Mare Island, Calif. for treatment of an arthritic condition. Following two months hospitalization, he received 23 days leave after which his discharge became effective on February 2.

Mr. Howlett's future plans are indefinite.

Robert Retzinger of Northbrook has been given a medical discharge from the navy. He served 18 months and has suffered several attacks of malaria.

Cpl. Adolph Schmitt of Northbrook has been given his medical discharge from the service because of a back injury. He and his wife will live in Chicago at present.

France

Chap. (1st. Lt.) Donald C. Morrison of Wheeling is now located in a large hospital in France where a majority of their patients are disease and accident cases. The hospital had been occupied by the Germans for the past four years and is very well equipped. Chap. Morrison is with the 199th Gen. Hospital, APO 0517, New York.

England

Pvt. Warren Sessous of Wheeling has recovered from the injuries received in a truck accident early in December and expected to leave England for the front again soon. Pvt. Sessous was in Germany at the time of the accident, which was shortly before the German drive. Warren spent a pleasant Christmas in England and said it would be with regrets that he would leave "Jolly Old England" for the continent.

Now back in the States after spending considerable time in an English hospital is Pvt. Neal Higgins of Arlington Heights. Neal suffered shrapnel wounds in the arm November 17. He was stationed in a Belgium hospital, then moved to England. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Neal Higgins, 415 S. Beverly Lane.

COME TO DOUGLAS TODAY!

For Douglas War and Postwar Planes!

Douglas now has a $416,000,000 backlog order for war planes . . . and $140,000,000 in postwar orders from major airlines, including huge contracts for C-54 Combat transports. The C-54 is the transport companion to the B-29 Super Fortress which is now starting to bomb Japan into oblivion. The C-54 is the world's largest 4-motor transport in volume production and has the cabin dimensions of a standard railroad box car. Adapted for postwar airline use, it will be designated the DC-4. This is the plane used by President Roosevelt in his flights to Casablanca, Terheran, and Cairo. Now it is carrying munitions and men to the fighting front and wounded back to safety. After the war it will carry millions of airline passengers. This plane is built in the Douglas Chicago plant. You are needed to build it.

WORKERS WANTED to HELP BUILD GIANT C-54's

Start Your Postwar Future Today!

Read this message carefully . . . because it means opportunity. It may mean a profitable lifetime career for you. But you must act at once if this opportunity is not to be wasted.

If you have read recent War Manpower Commission articles or our advertisements in the last few weeks, you know that additional men and women are urgently needed on a two-year schedule to help us build the giant C-54, companion transport plane to the B-29 Super-Fortress for the war against Japan . . . and then to build the same plane after the war to fill orders already booked with us by the airlines. Maybe you've said to yourself, "I'll look into that someday."

Someday will be too late. You must join us now if you are to cash in on this opportunity. Don't let lack of experience hold you back. We train you so that you're bound to make good in fabricating, assembly, and installation work. As interesting work as you'll ever find. Good pay. Act now.

Dear Dollink —

From Brunswick, Georgia, comes word from Ens. Harold Dombrow, husband of the former Madeline Malcolm of Palatine. Their address is 3602 Brentley ave., Brunswick, Georgia.

"I hev just finisht rubbing my back with Slone's Linamunt (kwite a Jimnastic feet—rubbing one's own back) and the thawt uccured tew me that I coud rite tew yew So I am. That is a simpul statement of fakt—nothing more and nuthing less.

"Perhaps yew are wundering wy I rubbed my back, sew I will tell yew. It is a long story, butt I will shorten it as I go ulong becawse as I go along, I will getting neerur the end and as I get neerur the end, it will natchurally get shortur. As yew no, wee live in a house, and becawse it is custumary in these Yewnited States, we have a piddlin' peece of grownd sewerrounding the fower walls. I don't suppose yew wood be interested in noing that the grownd is nintee pur cent sand, so I will shorten the story by not ttelling yew that. It reely duzn't matter or have eny berring on the storey sew the fakt that I doughn't menshun it woen't harm.

"I doughn't no wether oar knot it is allsew custumairy to have pigs and kows running arownd the piddlin' peece of grownd sewerounding the fower walls but we have 'em. Now I dough't objekt tew thair running arownd becawse I figger cum summer and my grass which I intend sew cum up, the kows and pigs can graize and saive me the job of cuttin' the lawn. Allsew, it's mytee cunveeniunt having meet on the hoof in tha yard when we are low on red points.

"However we've found out that kows and pigs are simalure tew hueman being byowelogicully, in that wut goes intew 'em, must kum out—and Maddy objecks to having that witch kums ou uddorn tha yard. Pursunully, I think that it adds a surtain amount of distinkshun tew the yard, but Maddy sez it only adds stink and not "di" or "shun." In spite of the fakt that the kows and pigs wood save us the pryce of a lawn mower, Maddy sez hey hav got to be fensd out. Even wen I told hur that with wut we'd saive on the lawn mower we cud by a Extra War Bond. She remaynd furm in hur deesizion to hav a fense.

"So fineually talked hur intew letting me bild a privy on the sowth side of the yard fur the kows and pigs, figgering that they cood graize and then wen they had tew go they cood run over tew the privy—but, even tho I paintud it purty and put up a sine on it reading "Fur Pigs and Kows Ownly" they ignored it and Maddy sez the fense must go up. Having walloped my thum cunsidurable in bilding the privy, "I wuz in no mood tew bild the fense, sew I got a houn' dog tew chaz the kows and pigs off the proputee, but the durn thing thing was tew lazy tew chaz 'em. As a matter of fakt, the ownly time the critter wood muve was wen the naybor's femail dog went out fur a stroll—and then he'd stroll with hur. I finelly got rid of thet pooch and got unoother witch wood chase the kows and pigs but they would just wate until the femail dog was let out, becuz the new dog allsew strolled with hur, and wen he was gone they'd cum in and graize. I cofinzed Maddy that if they wur that smart, they'd be smart enaf to get threw a fense if I bilt wun, so she said I woodn't hav to bild a fense. I shood hav known thair'd be sum ketch in it, and now I am very seriusly considering bilding the fense, becuz she makes me go out with a shuvvel and kleen up after the kows and pigs—and that is W my back wuz rubbed with Slone's Linument becawse its hard work.

"Down heer in Jawrja it is useless tew dreem of a wite Christmas sew I am dreeming of a green fourth of Jewlye. Can't yew jest vizulize my nice green lawn with kows and pigs graizing Maddy hanging clowes on the line; the nayborhood kids playing in the front yard, and me inside the howse wondering wy the blinkety blank I ever planted the grass wen thair ain't no room for me on it? Of course, the kows will probubbly be very contented after all the graizing and maybe I kan sell 'em to the Carnation Milk Company—and make more millyuns!

"Insudentally — don't let any wise guy ttalk yew intew bying a book writ by a feller name of Daniel Webster It's got more than atey pur cent of the words misspelt—at leest thair was no similarity tew the way I spell, and I must no moren he does becuz I'm married and he's some kind of a Batchelor (it says so aftur his naim), and on top of that it don't hav no pikchurs in ut. The naim of the book is "Dickshunairy"—so watch out for it.

"Last nite we had strawberry jello for supper and it tasted purty good until I noticed that Maddy's finger nail polish was almost all chipped off—then I lost my appetite."

From Capitol Hill

Wilkins News Letter No. 11.

Published occasionally and reporting in great detail just how one S. J. Wilkins is winning the war.

"It's a gray day in Washington. At intervals since yesterday morning a fine mist has been falling that freezes as soon as it touches the ground. As a result the immediate universe is an ice palace, very beautiful but not good. The roads are skating rinks, that is until one gets to a highway where the buses keep it cut up pretty well. Our place stands on a hill and going down the road turns and runs along the edge of a ravine, with the inevitable creek at the bottom.

"This morning I slid down this hill with the ignition off, the car in low gear and the brake full on. For a few seconds it was touch and go whether we made the turn or went on straight down to the creek, but at length the rear end 'gee'd' around the right way and we made it. Unless things change much before nightfall I will have to chip about one-fourth inch of ice off the windshield and I know I can never make it up the hill. These sleet storms are so frequent an occurrence that a razor blade device as well as a box of salt are standard equipment for all cars. Some of the drivers even go so far as to cover their entire cars with tarpaulins when they park in the morning. Of course this type of weather might be less objectionable than the below-zero stuff you've been having, but I'm not sure.

But we do have our lighter moments. At the present time the foremost of these is a game called 'Stand in Line'. This embraces most everything you do or wish to do from breakfast time on. Standing in line for cigarettes is probably the most popular pastime in town. There are cigarette vending machines in all corridors and the minute a service man appears to load a machine the line forms. They all have large notices posted on the front requesting customers to take only one pack but you notice while standing in line—and pretty far back because you didn't get there a little sooner—that those at the head of the line are taking five or six packs. This makes you very angry, especially because it always happens there are fewer than six packs left by the time your turn comes.

"Then there is the line at Walgreens. They have set up special counters and 'In' and 'Out' lines, on the concourse. They sell only cigarettes and two packs per customer. This goes on between 11 and 2 each day they have any stock and while the lines, six in all, are long they move pretty fast. Most days they have one or two of the popular brands, but usually the less popular sellers prevail.

"Then, while it isn't actually 'standing' the business of getting any gasoline for your car is about the same thing. There has been a terrific shortage the last ten days or so and most of the stations have large signs in the driveways 'No Gas'. When a station does get some gas the line immediately starts forming and very often will extend two or three blocks. A favorite device is to follow a loaded truck to the station he is headed for and thus get in a good position. Between our place and the Pentagon there are usually a half dozen cars pulled off the road, apparently out of gas. The station at ort Meyer sells gas to military personnel in uniform and I have been able to keep supplied there without too much difficulty but it is very uncertain how long this source will be available. Have also been able to get cigarettes—one carton per week—at the commissary. They have made up regular ration cards for cigarettes and when you buy your carton for the week the card is punched. So far they seem to have a good supply, but I'm afraid the situation is going to get worse long before it gets any better.

"In addition to the foregoing you stand in line at the movies, in all stores and always in restaurants. To a minor degree one also enjoys (?) this sport at postoffices or the Pentagon bank.

"And then to go from the ridiculous to the sublime. I played poker last Saturday night with some other officers. Real honest-to-goodness poker GI style, stud or draw poker only, nothing wild and the blue ones a quarter. Quite a novel experience and the first time I've played in two years or so. Here's one thing the New Deal hasn't gotten to. Three treys still beat any two pair, as I learned to my sorrow and a steady diminution of the blue chips.

"VITAL STATISTICS: The Wilkins spent a very nice albeit quiet Christmas. Your cards were very nice and we are grateful for having been remembered. New Years Eve we went to an early party as all of us had to work New Years Day. Stayed up only long enough to hear the New Year welcomed in at the Hotel Sherman.

"WILKINS FORECAST: The Cubs to cop the pennant, if any.

Hasta Luego,

Stan."

Evanston

From Northwestern university comes word of Ray Benson of Bensenville.

"Imagine my surprise when I had finished reading the newspaper and then discovered that it wasn't mine. It was addressed to Bob McArdle of Roselle. To top that off he's been living in the same barracks with me for 3 months. Since we'll both be here for quite some time cancel the paper sent to me, and I'll read Bob's copy. We've become great friends since the paper episode. However, when we do separate, I'd be very happy if I could continue to receive the news from home. You can't realize how much they are appreciated. I'll let you know when either Bob or myself have left here."

His address is Ray Benson, A/S, House 14, Evanston, Ill.

New Hebrides

Discharged

Ensign Grayle W. Howlett Jr., of 501 E. Euclid street, Arlington Heights, has received an honorable discharge from the United States Naval Reserve.

Howlett, sports editor of Radio Station WGN before his enlistmen and the first secretary of the Arlington Heights Dad's Club, was commissioned by the Navy in November, 1943. He received his indoctrination at Ft. Schuyler, N. Y., and advance training in destroyers at Norfolk, Va. and Philadelphia.

Ordered to sea duty last summer, Howlett served as a communications officer aboard a destroyer in the South Pacific until sent to the United States Naval Hospital at Mare Island, Calif. for treatment of an arthritic condition. Following two months hospitalization, he received 23 days leave after which his discharge became effective on February 2.

Mr. Howlett's future plans are indefinite.

Robert Retzinger of Northbrook has been given a medical discharge from the navy. He served 18 months and has suffered several attacks of malaria.

Cpl. Adolph Schmitt of Northbrook has been given his medical discharge from the service because of a back injury. He and his wife will live in Chicago at present.

England

Pvt. Warren Sessous of Wheeling has recovered from the injuries received in a truck accident early in December and expected to leave England for the front again soon. Pvt. Sessous was in Germany at the time of the accident, which was shortly before the German drive. Warren spent a pleasant Christmas in England and said it would be with regrets that he would leave "Jolly Old England" for the continent.

Now back in the States after spending considerable time in an English hospital is Pvt. Neal Higgins of Arlington Heights. Neal suffered shrapnel wounds in the arm November 17. He was stationed in a Belgium hospital, then moved to England. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Neal Higgins, 415 S. Beverly Lane.

LOOKING FOR A JOB WITH POSTWAR FUTURE?

Get Into Aviation . . . Good Pay . . . Steady Work.

COME TO DOUGLAS TODAY!

For Douglas War and Postwar Planes!

Douglas now has a $416,000,000 backlog order for war planes . . . and $140,000,000 in postwar orders from major airlines, including huge contracts for C-54 Combat transports. The C-54 is the transport companion to the B-29 Super Fortress which is now starting to bomb Japan into oblivion. The C-54 is the world's largest 4-motor transport in volume production and has the cabin dimensions of a standard railroad box car. Adapted for postwar airline use, it will be designated the DC-4. This is the plane used by President Roosevelt in his flights to Casablanca, Terheran, and Cairo. Now it is carrying munitions and men to the fighting front and wounded back to safety. After the war it will carry millions of airline passengers. This plane is built in the Douglas Chicago plant. You are needed to build it.
